A GLORIOUS DAY BREAKS ABOVE CHINA CAMP

Another marvelous, summer-type day was recorded breaking above China Camp early today by early-rising Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax. The indolent December weather is expected to continue over Northern California through tomorrow.

Some record temperatures for the Bay Area have been noted. It hit 81 in Terra Linda yesterday, and 77 in Woodacre. At noon today, in San Rafael, it was 68. The weatherman owes the warm spell to a high pressure system blocking chilly winds.

Papal Hanoi Mission Rumored At Vatican

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—High Vatican sources said today Pope Paul VI would follow up his talks with President Johnson by sending a peace mission to Hanoi early in January. Other peace moves were reported in widely scattered parts of the world.

There were indications in Saigon that President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam had sent a letter to President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam inviting him to start peace negotiations, but a government spokesman would neither confirm nor deny the reports.

Today the Pope told a crowd of 6,000 that he was happy to resume his public audiences after his operation. He made no reference to his continued search for peace however.

The public audience, held in the Benedictine Hall of the Apostolic Palace, was the first the pontiff has held since his prostate operation Nov. 4.

Pope Paul, who looked well, delivered a 15-minute address, in a strong voice.

However, South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do flew into Abidjan, the capital of the Ivory Coast, for talks with President Felix Houphouet-Boigny on the Vietnam war. The visit apparently is aimed at getting African leaders to help bring Hanoi to the negotiating table.

Most informed observers believed little would come of the South Vietnamese peace efforts. The Vatican mission also would seek humane treatment for American prisoners and offer relief aid to the North Vietnamese, Vatican sources said.

The source said there were no definite plans at this stage, but a mission "appears likely" following the Pope's meeting last Saturday with President Johnson.

"If it is decided to send a mission, I would expect an announcement sometime in the first half of January," the source said.

Reports of a possible Hanoi mission first appeared this morning in the newspaper La Stampa. It said, "The initial purpose would be to obtain a more humane treatment for American prisoners, a subject Johnson discussed at length with the Pope."

"But it is not being concealed that the occasion appears favorable for an attempt at political contacts with the Hanoi leaders."

Moscow Life Bores U.S. Ship Jumpers

MOSCOW (AP)—Four U. S. Navy deserters who came to Moscow to protest the Vietnamese war told a chance acquaintance Wednesday they are "fed up with Russia," a member of the diplomatic community reported.

The deserters, who jumped ship in Japan in October, said they are anxious to get to Sweden and settle down with steady jobs. They said they hope to go in a week or two.

The young sailors chatted openly in Moscow's Gorky Park with an English-speaking woman member of the diplomatic community while skating on one of the park's frozen ponds.

Since they arrived in Moscow in early November, she said, they have begun to feel "The Russians are fed up with us, too, and don't know what to do with us."

The sailors are Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif., John M. Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md., Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Michael A. Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa.

FCC Denies Snubbing McCarthy's TV Plea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rosel H. Hyde, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, denied today Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's charges that the FCC had contemptuously and led his request for equal television and radio time to answer telecast statements by President Johnson.

Hyde said the FCC had yet to act on McCarthy's request, but would do so soon.

McCarthy, Democrat from Minnesota who says he will challenge Johnson in several 1968 presidential primaries, said the only notice he received from the FCC came as a package of reprints of the agency's public notices on its policies on political broadcasts and equal time, mailed by the commission to Blair Clark, McCarthy's campaign manager.

Hyde blamed "some assistant" in the FCC he did not identify. He said this man sent the materials unsolicited to McCarthy last week—even before the senator had complained to the FCC seeking equal time.

A telegram from McCarthy arrived Saturday when the commission offices were closed, Hyde said, and the documents were sent sometime last week.

He explained that in accordance with commission procedure, letters have been sent to the three major networks seeking their views on McCarthy's equal time demands.

The FCC sent an official response to McCarthy yesterday, over the signature of Ben F. Waple, commission secretary, which said the matter is under study.

In the course of the Johnson telecast, the President suggested McCarthy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., were working together politically, a statement both have denied.

Scientific Police Held Crime Answer

NEW YORK (UPI)—The year's largest science meeting was told today that what America needs to cope with its burgeoning crime rate is more police chiefs who are qualified scientists.

A number of criminalists—experts in the use of science to solve crimes—were featured speakers at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS).

Prof. Paul K. Kirk of the University of California, a private scientific investigator who has worked on a number of highly-publicized crimes, said that what all law enforcement agencies need is "a broad although not necessarily deep knowledge of the basic sciences—chemistry, physics and biology."

Immunology and genetics are also "musts," he added, and eventually there must be statistical expertise to cope with crime detection problems "which rest on probability."

Another criminalist, Prof. James Osterburg of the University of Indiana, a visiting professor of criminalistics at U. C. at Berkeley, said police should have staffs of behavioral scientists to advise them on matters of police policy.

But to profit from the advice police chiefs should be scientists themselves, Osterburg suggested that ideally a police chief

New State Low In Unemployment

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Unemployment in California dropped to the lowest point in more than eight years during November, the state reported today.

The potential civilian labor force numbered 7,838,000 during the month, and 4.6 per cent of it was without a job. This was the lowest since a 4.5 per cent rate in September, 1959.

The comparable figure for the same month last year was 4.9 per cent.

Bay Coach's Son Killed In Crash

MOUNTAIN VIEW (AP)—A head-on automobile collision on the Mountain View-Alviso road early today killed Richard James Voris Jr., 20, the son of the San Francisco 49er defensive coach.

Voris, of Mountain View, died of head injuries at the Valley Medical Center, San Jose.

Vernon R. Dodd, 22, of Fremont, who drove the other car, was taken to the medical center suffering from severe head injuries.

PAYCHECK IMPACT

Deductions Rise $52.80 In 1968

WASHINGTON (AP)—New Year's Day will bring both good and bad news for the American taxpayer. One tax will be erased from the government's books on Jan. 1 while another will be increased for many persons.

Higher Social Security taxes to be paid during 1968 will more than offset the repeal of the federal stamp tax on real estate sales which was voted in 1965 but doesn't take effect until next week.

That tax amounts to 55 cents for each $500, or fraction, of a real estate sale and meant between $60 million and $70 million each year to the Treasury Department. It was one of the fees collected from the home-buyer when he signed his settlement papers.

(However, Marin County home buyers will find that local governments have enacted local options to impose the same tax on real estate transfers, effective next week.)

Although the Social Security tax rate won't increase for 1968, the amount of salary on which it is levied will—from $6,600 to $7,800. This will mean an additional tax of $52.80 for a person earning $7,800 or more during the year.

President Johnson has not yet signed the Social Security bill but is expected to do so shortly.

Increased Social Security taxes and repeal of the federal stamp tax on real estate are the only two changes in the tax law which take effect Jan. 1.

But when Congress returns next month, the House Ways and Means Committee is again scheduled to take up President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes and Treasury officials hope for speedy passage.

In addition to higher income taxes, that package also would postpone drops scheduled for April 1 in the 7 per cent manufacturers' excise tax on automobiles and the 10 per cent excise tax on telephone service.

The present Social Security tax rate of 4.4 per cent on the first $6,600 income means a total payment of no more than $290.40 for both the employee and his employer.

It would have remained unchanged next year had Congress not approved earlier this month an increase in both benefits and the tax schedule. The maximum payment next year will now be $343.20.

This is now scheduled to rise to a maximum $460.20 by 1987 when the tax rate will be 5.9 per cent on both employee and employer.

For 1968, the same amount of tax will be deducted from weekly paychecks but it will be extended over a longer period.

Persons earning more than $6,600 will feel a bigger bite in take-home pay after Jan. 1. They have paid no Social Security tax in 1967 since their earnings exceeded $6,600. They will begin paying again after the first of the year.

Meanwhile, the Internal Revenue Service said it will begin this week to mail instruction booklets and forms for 1967 income tax returns. All taxpayers should receive their forms by Jan. 5, IRS said. The deadline for filing a tax return is next April 15.

Owner Able To Rescue Few Pets

Thirty-four dogs were killed by fire today in the main pens at Picnic Valley Kennels in Novato, despite rescue attempts by the kennel owners and a neighbor.

Many of the dogs were being boarded for vacationing pet owners.

Kennel owner Mrs. Viola Thillen was able to lead four dogs to safety through their outdoor runways, said a neighbor, Mrs. Helen D. Blair, operator of Blairhaven Kennels.

FLAMES RISE

The fire started shortly before 8:30 a.m.

Mrs. Thillen came "running down the hill with some dogs at her heels screaming that there was a fire," Mrs. Blair said. Mrs. Blair called an employee at the kennel to telephone for firemen, then ran to the Picnic Valley kennel, at 677 Atherton Avenue, where she said flames leaped 20 feet.

Mrs. Blair said she attempted to open the main door to the kennel, but was pushed back by the "inferno inside."

PHONE OUT

Mrs. Thillen could not call firemen because the blaze had cut a telephone extension line, knocking out telephone service to her home.

Mrs. Thillen said an explosion in a gas heater may have started the blaze. Firemen are investigating. Firemen said the kennel was engulfed in flames when they arrived.

Mrs. Blair said a few of the dogs killed were pups Mrs. Thillen bred for show, but most were being boarded. No value of the animals could be given.

Mrs. Thillen's home and other kennel buildings were not damaged.

General Motors Pact Favored

DETROIT (UPI)—Members of the United Auto Workers union have been approving a three-year contract with General Motors Corp. by a 5-1 margin, the UAW said today.

With returns from one-third of the union's G.M. bargaining units counted, both production and skilled trades workers were voting for ratification by the same margin, a UAW spokesman said.

The bulk of the UAW's 387,000 members at G.M. were to vote today and tomorrow. Voting

Flu Patients Jam London's Hospitals

LONDON (AP)—London hospitals were warned today to admit emergency cases only. Wards were swamped with the victims of what seemed to be a new strain of influenza.

Bronchitis sufferers were hit hardest by the virus. At present the epidemic is confined to London and southeastern England.

Thais Fear North Viet Invasion; Laos Reports Battle Going On

BANGKOK (AP)—Thailand's army commander said today three Communist battalions that include North Vietnamese are poised on Thailand's northern border and one is trying to cross. In neighboring Laos, the government declared it faced a general North Vietnamese offensive.

The battalion trying to cross into Thailand totals some 600 men and includes Thai insurgents drilled in North Vietnam. Men of the Communist Pathet Lao movement in Laos and Meo tribesmen, said Gen. Praphas Charusathien, who is deputy premier as well as commander in chief of the army.

To check the threat, Praphas said, helicopters whirled into Nan province carrying government troops from Chiangrai, in northern Thailand and units from the 3rd Army Headquarters. The area where Thai troops and the Communists were reported facing each other is 350 miles northeast of Bangkok.

The Laotian Defense Ministry said in a communique late Tuesday that "reports arriving from various fronts confirm a general North Vietnamese offensive."

It reported attacks over the weekend on government army posts at Nam Bac, in Luang Prabang province, and at Phalane and on the outskirts of Nong Boualao, both in Savannakhet province, in southeast Laos.

"Our forces have been able to contain all these attacks," the communique said.

The communique also said that two North Vietnamese battalions had been ordered to move from Mahaxay toward Thakhek, a town on the Mekong River opposite Nakorn Phanom. See LAOS, page 4

LBJ Maintains Diplomacy Best Cambodia Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a sharp rebuff from Cambodia, President Johnson still hopes to find a diplomatic solution to the problem of Communist forces using Cambodian territory as a sanctuary from which to attack South Vietnam.

U.S. officials said Johnson intends to exhaust all the resources of diplomacy before considering other means of dealing with the problem.

MILITARY ACTION

Officials report, however, that pressures are growing inside the Johnson administration for military action if diplomacy fails.

The United States has charged several times previously that Communist forces—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese—were taking refuge in Cambodia when hard-pressed in South Vietnam and sometimes attacking U.S. and South Vietnamese troops by operations from across the Vietnamese-Cambodian border.

On Dec. 4, the State Department reported yesterday, the United States sent a note to the Cambodian government "as part of a sincere effort to provide the Cambodian government with information which would enable it to move toward a solution of a problem we believe should be of concern to the Cambodian government as well as the United States government."

NEW CONTROLS

The note proposed strengthening of an international control commission for Cambodia to enable it to prevent use of Cambodian territory by the Communists as far as possible.

It also stated, according to a State Department spokesman, that the United States respects "the neutrality, sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity of Cambodia" and "has no hostile intentions toward Cambodia or Cambodian territory."

The proposal was rejected in a Cambodian note received here late last week and made public by the government in Phnom Penh. Notes were exchanged through Australia since the United States and Cambodia do not have diplomatic relations.

CAMBODIAN NOTE

The Cambodian note charged that the United States and its allies in South Vietnam are already conducting some limited military operations against Cambodia, which it denounced as "flagrant violations of international law."

The note specified "daily incursions into Khmer (Cambodian) air space, attacks and terrorist bombings on the Cambodian civilian population in the frontier zones, and infiltrations by commandos for the purposes of sabotage and assassination."

Officials say the only policy now existing that would permit U.S. operations involving Cambodian territory is that giving military commanders freedom—when U.S. forces are fired on from across the border—to return fire.

ERNESTO GUEVARA
Handcuffed, shot

Article Says Guevara Spat On Admiral

PARIS (AP) — Ernesto Che Guevara kicked one Bolivian officer and spat in an admiral's face before he was killed, the French magazine Paris Match said today.

The report was written by Michele Ray, a French woman reporter who was once captured by the Viet Cong.

It said Guevara, handcuffed in a schoolhouse after his capture, was shot dead by a thin-faced, mustached sergeant named Mario Teran and a second lieutenant named Perez.

The account said:

After an argument, Teran shot Guevara twice with a carbine as the Cuban revolutionary stood—refusing to sit down—in the main room of the schoolhouse at Higuera. Perez then came in and finished him off with a shot in the neck.

In the next room, a Sgt. Huanca then shot two other guerrillas.

Miss Ray spent six weeks in La Pax and in the Sierra Mountains putting together the story of Guevara's capture and death, the magazine said.

Egypt Will Finally Clear Clogged Suez

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt has finally agreed to clear the southern half of the Suez Canal and release 15 foreign ships trapped in the waterway, the semi-official newspaper Al Ahram indicated today.

Al Ahram, which often speaks for President Gamal Abdel Nasser, said Nasser's government "undertook an extensive study of the problem in all its aspects" and established that clearance of the southern part of the waterway was "feasible."

REPEATED PLEAS

The paper said the government made the study in response to repeated requests from Poland, France and Britain, which have ships trapped in the canal, and from India.

Egypt turned down a similar request last September, insisting that no part of the canal could be cleared until Israeli troops withdrew from the east bank of the canal and other territories they occupied in the June war.

By refusing to clear the northern end of the canal and reopen it to navigation, Nasser would still retain a bargaining lever to support his demands for Israeli withdrawal.

NO FIRM DATE

Al Ahram gave no indication when clearing operations might start or how long they were expected to take.

Fourteen of the ships are trapped in the Great Bitter Lake and one is in Lake Timshah. They include the American freighter African Glenn, which was chartered by the U.S. Defense Department, as well as ships flying the flags of Britain, France, West Germany, Poland, Bulgaria, Sweden and Czechoslovakia.

Skeleton crews have been left aboard the ships to maintain them and the rest of the crewmen have been sent home.

School Bill Held $60 Million Short

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An additional $60 million will be needed to finance the major school aid bill passed by the 1967 Legislature, an official of the California Taxpayers' Association said Tuesday.

Robert C. Brown, executive vice president of Cal-Tax, said the increase in state funds to schools may total more than $200 million rather than the $145 million expected for this fiscal year from the legislation, authored by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood.

NO FULL REPORT

Brown said the amount of money needed under the measure was "seriously understated." He based his contention on a state Department of Education report on how much money California's 1,227 school districts would gain from the aid program.

Doctor Thinks Pistol Too Small

WILMINGTON (AP) — Dr. Paul H. Goodley walked into a drug store, felt a knife at his back and heard, "Just keep walking."

Goodley pulled a .25-caliber automatic, whirled and shot his assailant five times, an accomplice once. Two wounded men later were arrested and booked.

Goodley, 25, a physician and a reserve sheriff's deputy, wasn't satisfied with his performance yesterday.

"Any time you put five slugs into somebody and he walks away, it's time to get a larger caliber weapon," he said of his pistol.

CHANGES ASKED

Brown said the under-estimation of funds showed the need for a change in legislative procedures to "eliminate last minute conference committee reports on major bills." He suggested that conference committee reports be printed in the journal so the legislators can review them before taking final action.

Brown pointed out the conference report on the school aid bill contained a $50 million error in tax rate computations which was corrected at a special legislative session.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Property Seized

ADEN (UPI)—The government of South Yemen today began confiscating the lands, homes, palaces, automobiles, furniture, bank accounts and jewelry of 12 former sultans, princes and ministers. The government announced yesterday it was "retrieving" the property "unlawfully" seized during British rule.

New Outbreak

LONDON (UPI)—Twenty-one new outbreaks of hoof and mouth disease epidemic yesterday brought the total number of cases to 2,112, the Ministry of Agriculture announced. More than 300,000 farm animals have been slaughtered because of the disease.

New Delegate

CAIRO (UPI)—Former Premier Mohsen El Ainy has been named Yemen's chief delegate to the United Nations, the semi-official Middle East News Agency said last night. Ainy resigned as premier last week in favor of Lt. Gen. Hassan El Amri.

Some Honors

LONDON (UPI)—The London Daily Mail, which annually picks the men and events of the year around the world, declined today to name an American of 1967 because no one was entitled to the honor. The newspaper chose the all-Negro version of "Hello, Dolly" as its play of the year, "The Confessions of Nat Turner," by William Stryon as its book of the year and "Bonnie and Clyde" as its film of the year.

Consumer Aide Urges Truth About Longevity Of Products

WASHINGTON (AP) — Betty Furness, special adviser on consumer affairs to President Johnson, urged today that manufacturers tell purchasers exactly how long a product can be expected to last.

"Why shouldn't the housewife know that there are 'X' number hours of service in her washing machine or that the life expectancy of a toaster falls short of a golden wedding anniversary?" said Miss Furness.

"The manufacturer knows, and the marketer knows, what the design-life of a product is. Shouldn't the consumer also know?" she added.

Her comments came in a speech prepared for a meeting of the American Marketing Association.

Miss Furness, citing enactment by Congress this year of a new meat inspection law, said it resulted directly from increased consumer interest in getting better treatment in the marketplace.

When consumers became alarmed about meat quality, she said, they let Congress know and: "That, gentlemen, can happen again and the government will have to act. It applies to other products as well as meat."

BEFORE FATAL FIRE

pendent-Journal was compiling a feature story on the kennels. Fire destroyed this pen today, killing 34 dogs. (Story, page 1.)

Lee Brothers Mart In Mill Valley Sold

The Lee Brothers Market in Mill Valley has been sold, and the company's two other stores in Marin County also may be on the block.

The Mill Valley market, at 393 Miller Avenue, has been bought by Olen Bartlett and Albert Gondalla, partners in the Top Hat Market at 418 Miller Avenue, also Mill Valley. They will operate the newly bought store under the name of Top Hat Supermarket. John Soderstrom, previously with Gosser Meat Market, will be in charge of the Top Hat meat department.

Bartlett and Gondalla said they plan to sell all stock and fixtures at the old Top Hat market and devote their full time to the new and larger one.

Meanwhile, Lee Brothers Markets in Marinwood and Novato were reported to be up for sale. Joseph Messina, owner of Scott's Market in Terra Linda, said he is negotiating to take over the Marinwood store. Lee

97 Pieces Of Equipment Unaccounted

Ninety-seven pieces of county-owned equipment, valued at $1,698, are missing and unaccounted for. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell disclosed in a report to the board of supervisors.

The county owns 9,600 pieces of equipment and furniture, Mitchell said. Total value of the county's inventory as of June 30, was $3,007,606, of which $1,050,046 was in county garage equipment.

George R. Donaldson, assistant auditor, said some of the missing items may be obsolete ones that were sent to the purchasing department for disposal without transfer forms.

"I don't think anybody would take things home with them," said Donaldson. The list of missing items for this year appears normal, he added.

Weekend Break-In Cases Reported

Marin Sheriff's deputies today reported the burglaries of a car and a school over the Christmas weekend.

Someone broke through a window at MacPhail School at 1565 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, Saturday, they said, and ransacked desks, cabinets and wall lockers in a classroom. Deputies were unable to determine if anything was missing.

James L. Mendoza of Point Reyes Station told deputies that someone took a stereophonic tape recorder and two tapes from his car while it was parked at College of Marin Friday.

Arraignment On Drug Charges

Chico Mercado, 50, of 585 Midway Street, Novato, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on charges of marijuana possession and possession of an amphetamine or barbiturate.

The case was continued until Jan. 22 for argument on a motion to dismiss the charge for lack of sufficient evidence.

Innocent Plea To Ring Theft

James J. Jameson, 31, of 1301 Second Street, San Rafael, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a felony charge of stealing a $3,000 ring from Ann K. Borg, of 18 Pleasant Lane, San Rafael, last May.

Preliminary hearing on the grand theft charge was scheduled for Jan. 12.

Jameson is accused of stealing the ring from Miss Borg while they were dating, and pawning it for $50.

Clergyman Quits Rights Commission

Rev. John J. O'Connor resigned from the Marin Human Rights Commission today, declaring, "I have come to realize the futility of my membership on the commission."

He has been critical of support given the commission by the board of supervisors.

In a letter of resignation to commission chairman James Quiett, Father O'Connor said he had decided to resign "after great thought and agonizing."

He said he was writing a separate letter to the supervisors outlining his reasons for resigning.

Father O'Connor has charged the supervisors with giving less than full support to the commission. He was angered last month when the supervisors declined to heed the commission's recommendation that a new post of assistant to the executive director be created.

The supervisors decided to wait until a new executive director is hired and to get his views before considering an assistant's job.

The commission comprises nine members appointed by the supervisors for two-year terms.

Innocent Plea On Stealing Of $18

Steven W. Mitchell, 18, of 127 Ross Street, San Rafael, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court today to a charge of stealing $18 and over 200 keys from the Coca Cola factory at 728 Irwin Street, San Rafael, Aug. 26.

He was ordered to appear in Superior Court Tuesday for setting of a jury trial date.

should hold an MS degree to make the most of scientific consultants and a crime detection laboratory.

Police officials, the scientists agreed, should be criminalists in the scientific sense.

The criminalists were encouraged by the recent federal project for regional crime laboratories, but warned that the general scientific standards of present laboratories will have to be improved if scientific methods were to reverse the national crime rate.

Report Is Due On Clubhouse

The Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club will hear a report on threatened encroachments on the club's proposed clubhouse building site at Marin Avenue and Tennessee Valley Road.

The county is proposing to take some frontage to widen Tennessee Valley Road and the local flood control district plans a 40-foot channel which would further reduce the building site. Building committee chairman Joe Davis Allen will report.

The club will meet at 8 p.m. at Tamalpais Valley Schol.

Thai DC3 Crashes; 12 Americans Aboard

BANGKOK (UPI)—A Thai Airways DC3 carrying 31 persons, including at least 12 Americans, crashed and burned on landing today at Chengmai 500 miles north of Bangkok.

Officials said three persons were killed, including one of the Americans. The other two victims were the pilot and copilot, they said.

Grand Jury Asked For Indictment

The San Francisco Grand Jury will be asked by the district attorney to issue an indictment against Jerry Eliza Brown, 27, a San Quentin Prison parolee who was arrested in the murder of Gloria Zamora. Her body was found in Golden Gate Park Dec. 7.

Brown, who was sentenced in 1960 from Kern County for forcible rape, and paroled last May, has been returned to San Quentin for violating conditions of his parole.

The body of Miss Zamora, 40, a laboratory technician who came to this country from Guatemala 12 years ago, was found in the park 20 days after she disappeared. She was last seen having her hair done in a Powell Street beauty school.

Police said they began looking for Brown when three young men told them Brown had given them a driver's license, Social Security card and credit cards belonging to Miss Zamora.

Brown's parole officer said his parole was revoked for failure to hold a job since his release, for associating with other persons on parole and for forcibly resisting the police when they arrested him at his Fell Street apartment in the murder of Miss Zamora.

Writer Max Miller Dies At 68

SAN DIEGO, (AP) — Max Miller, author of 28 books including the best-seller "I Cover the Waterfront," died today after he collapsed at his La Jolla home. He was 68.

Coroner's deputies said Miller's wife, Margaret, found him lying on a bedroom floor breathing with difficulty.

He was taken to Scripps Memorial Hospital where he was dead on arrival at 8:10 a.m.

Mrs. Miller told Deputy Coroner Robert Gillespie her husband had been ill for several years and was partly crippled after several recent strokes.

After he left the news business, he wrote "He Went Away for Awhile," a novel about the life of an ex-newsman.

Miller grew up in Everett, Wash., where his father was a grocer, and later lived in northern Montana where his family had a homestead.

He attended the University of Washington and edited the student newspaper. The Melbourne Herald in Australia hired him as a reporter and later an Australian news syndicate sent him on South Sea island assignments.

Graves Opened To Check Grim Possibility Of Mass Poisoning

CORDELE, Ga. (UPI)—Authorities today began digging up the bodies of three more members of the family of Mrs. Janie Lou Gibbs, who is already charged with the arsenic slaying of one of her sons.

Superior Court Judge William L. McMurray granted officers' request for an order allowing exhumation of Mrs. Gibbs' husband, Charles, and her other two sons, Marvin, 13, and Melvin, 16.

Officers immediately drove to Sunnyside Cemetery here and began exhuming the bodies.

Innocent Plea To A Holdup

John Arceo, 21, of no known address, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to charges of holding up employees of Julian's Strawberry Shell service station Nov. 27 and Don's Market in Fairfax No. 30.

Claude (Frenchy) LeBas, 21, of Long Beach, also is charged with the robberies.

LeBas and Dennis Charles Novotny, 22, of 1554 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, are charged with the armed robbery of gun collector William L. Marshall, 60, in his home at 142 Bungalow Avenue, San Rafael, Dec. 8. LeBas alone is charged with the robbery of Perry's Delicatessen in San Rafael Dec. 11.

All three men are scheduled for preliminary hearing in municipal court Tuesday.

Five members of Mrs. Gibbs' family—the husband, three sons and a grandson—died within two years. Mrs. Gibbs often wondered, neighbors said, "Why did this happen to me?"

She was charged over Christmas weekend with the murder of her last living son, Ronnie. Police alleged that Mrs. Gibbs systematically dosed her 19-year-old son's coffee with arsenic.

But her neighbors described Mrs. Gibbs, who once "worked like a horse" picking cotton, as a kind-hearted soul.

"She is a wonderful person—very considerate, kind, congenial, Christian as I knew her," said Mrs. Jack Dowdy, wife of the minister of the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, where Mrs. Gibbs was pictured as a "devoted worker."

"This is the most horrible thing we've ever experienced," she said of Mrs. Gibbs' arrest Saturday, following an autopsy which revealed several milligrams of arsenic from rat poison in the body of Mrs. Gibbs' son.

"I can remember the day when she worked like a horse picking cotton in the fields," recalled one childhood acquaintance. "She worked awfully hard to help her mother make a living for the family after her daddy died."

One of many children, Mrs. Gibbs left the farm early and married when she was only 15 years old, the friend recalled.

Authorities theorized the rat poison was doled out in careful doses in the young man's coffee at his mother's home where he lived with his wife. He died last October, only three weeks before the death of his month-old son.

Her husband, Charles Clayton Gibbs, 40, an appliance repairman, died on Jan. 21, 1966. On Aug. 29, 1966, her son Marvin, 13, died. Another son, Melvin, 16, died last January.

Holiday Thefts Still Reported

Reports of the activities of Christmas thieves continue to keep San Rafael police busy.

Ann Davis of 945 Via Escondida, Novato, said a car parked by her son at 10 De Luca Place, San Rafael, was robbed of engine parts and the transmission, with a total value of $600.

Thieves stole parts from a grader parked near Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael. Cost of replacement was estimated at $100.

Foreman Donald J. Rushton of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. construction yard at 96 Louise Street reported someone broke into a boom truck and stole a transistor radio.

Brooks will plead to the charge in municipal court Tuesday.

LBJ To Host Israeli Premier At The Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson moved his office to his beloved Texas hill country ranch and settled down today for a year-end stay that aides expected to be "a fairly busy time."

The President announced he has invited Israel's Prime Minister Levi Eshkol for a private and informal ranch visit Jan. 7 and 8.

And his press secretary, George Christian, said the President could be expected to stay in Texas at least through that time.

BUDGET HUDDLES

Bill signing and budget business was prime on the President's agenda, with budget director Charles Schultze, fiscal experts and some Cabinet members coming to the ranch to confer, starting in the next day or so.

Johnson also will be drafting his State of the Union message, presented annually to the reconvening Congress. Congress is due back Jan. 15.

It was to be a combination of work and relaxation for the nation's chief executive, who flew to Texas yesterday afternoon after spending his first Christmas with his family in the White House.

FAMILY ALONG

The President's wife, Lady Bird, daughter, Luci, and her husband, Patrick J. Nugent, and the presidential grandson, baby Lyn, are at the ranch, too, along with three presidential dogs—two beagles and the President's favorite mongrel, Yuki.

Johnson arrived at Randolph Air Force Base here aboard his big jet plane dressed for relaxation in a brown sports jacket, tan shirt, tan slacks, brown

Non-Support Innocent Plea

Zekial Marko, 33, of Hollywood, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a felony charge that he failed to support his three Larkspur children during a period beginning May 1, 1966.

Marko, a film script writer, was accused on non-support of children aged 18, 10, and 4 by his ex-wife, Susan Schomaker of 96 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur.

Date for a preliminary hearing on the charge is to be set Tuesday.

Arraignment Held In Shoving Case

Richard D. Brooks, 26, of 1722 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on misdemeanor charges of disturbing the peace outside Long's Drugs in San Anselmo Saturday and shoving Richard Smith, the police officer who subdued him with a spray of Mace gas.

Brooks will plead to the charge in municipal court Tuesday.

loafers and wearing sunglasses in the bright Texas afternoon. He waved to the crowd of several hundred who gathered at the airport fence, but did not make his usual gesture of shaking hands.

Press secretary Christian said Johnson's first order of business probably would be bill signing—with more than 40 bills piling up from the windup of the first session of the 90th Congress. They include a big education bill, broadened Social Security benefits and a foreign aid appropriation.

State To Test Breakaway Signs For Highway Safety

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Motorists who ram into signs and light standards along California freeways will have a better chance of survival through the use of new breakaway signs and easily shattered lights, the state announced today.

It said the aim is to cut down the yearly toll of accidents involving just a vehicle and a stationary object like a sign. Such wrecks killed 273 persons last year.

John Legarra, state highway engineer, said "Since some people come to grief off the roadbed, we are going to see if we can help them avoid catastrophe by making sure shoulders and the adjacent roadways are comparatively smooth and free of obstructions. Errant drivers then can use this siding as a recovery area."

The breakaway signs and lights that shatter into almost harmless fragments will be installed in pilot projects in each of the 11 highway districts through a $1 million program called CURE, for "Clean Up Roadside Environment." The signs are made to flip upward and away when hit by a car by sawing through their posts, but holding them together with a brittle cast iron plate. The plate breaks from a sudden impact but can withstand strong winds. At the bottom, the post is designed so it will tear loose from the ground.

Gun Safety

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—Hunters under 17 years old are required by Oregon law to possess a certificate of competency in the use of firearms. Hunter safety courses are conducted during the summer in most parts of the state.

Citizens Urge Highway 17 Public Hearing

Marin Citizens Transportation Committee wants an evening public hearing before Marin Superior Court on the next six weeks to discuss Highway 17, proposed east-west connection between Highway 101 and Point Reyes.

"Interest in this matter is intense," said Raymond Ryan, committee chairman, said in a letter to the board of supervisors. "There is a generally expressed desire that a hearing be held soon."

The committee passed a resolution on Nov. 30 recommending that Highway 17 be deleted from the California freeway system. Committee members contend that communities like San Anselmo and Fairfax do not want a freeway through their towns.

The board of supervisors has declined to take a stand on a "balanced" transportation plan for the county is worked out.

Shipping Line Merger Gets Federal Nod

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Federal Maritime Commission, overruling the Justice Department, has approved merger of three West Coast shipping lines into what would be the nation's largest carrier.

The Justice Department had opposed the merger and also contended it had sole jurisdiction to act on the proposal. It appeared likely the commission's 3-2 decision would be taken to the courts.

The merger involves American President Lines and Pacific Far East Line, both of San Francisco, and American Mail Line of Seattle.

Natomas Co. of San Francisco owns 54 per cent of American President, 49 per cent of American Mail and 39 per cent of Pacific Far East. Ralph K. Davies, Natomas and APL chairman, also owns some Pacific Far East. When combined with Natomas, this would total 45 per cent of shares outstanding. The other 55 per cent of Pacific Far East stockholders hold the key to the merger, but Natomas officials expect no difficulty from this quarter.

Davies expressed pleasure at the decision and said it would bolster U.S. flag shipping operations on the Pacific Coast, especially in the face of virulent foreign flag competition. He said rapid technological changes in the maritime industry require such strength as a merger would provide.

Matson Navigation Co. and States Steamship Co., San Francisco-based firms also engaged in Trans-Pacific operations, have opposed the merger.

The three lines to be merged own 52 ships, have 11 on order and plan for up to five more. Annual estimated revenue totals $150 million.

The consolidated firm's size would surpass that of Lykes, United States and American Export—Liberty Lines—now largest in the United States in that order.

$13,750 Return On $5 Machines

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—A former showgirl from Vancouver, B.C., decided to invest $20 in the brand new $5 slot machines.

Anne Clark exercised her right arm on two machines at the Nevada Club for 10 hours early yesterday and collected jackpots totaling $13,750.

"Let me get some rest and I'll come back," she told club officials after her stint on the machines, which have been in operation only since Friday.

But she did not show up last night. The club doesn't know where she is staying and apparently is not too anxious to see her return.

Mrs. Clark is owner of a small dress shop in Vancouver.

Assessment Appeals Board Grants $114,650 In Cuts

Marin County's Assessment Appeals Board has granted about $11,000 in tax reductions for the first four months of operation. The county assessor's office said yesterday reductions have been averaging about 25 per cent of what taxpayers are seeking. Total reduction of assessed valuation amounts to $114,650. In addition to this reduction, the county assessor's office $845,332 in assessed valuation has been topped off the tax rolls through agreement between property owners and assessors. This totals about $84,000 in taxes.

The board has disposed of 274 cases, with 545 still to be heard. A total of 1,443 protests were filed in September when the board established earlier in the year by the board of supervisors, began hearings on Jan. 5.

The total, 592 protests were set by the assessor's office and 32 other taxpayers either canceled claims or failed to appear for hearings.

The appeals board is headed by attorney Julius H. Selinger and includes appraisers David G. Cobb, James F. McConnell, and Edward P. Morphy.

The board will not meet Friday on Jan. 5, resuming weekly sessions on Jan. 6.

Russ Writer Disowns Novel Printed In Paris

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet turnaya Gazeta (Literary Gazette) reported today that Galina Serebryakova said in a letter to the organ of the Kren-manscript published in Paris in-controlled Soviet Writers' Union that she was "shocked" to learn that a rough, unfinished manuscript of her novel "Smernik" ("Sandstorm") was taken abroad "secretly and thievishly."

She said it was published without her permission in Kultura, a Polish emigre magazine in Paris. It has not been published in the Soviet Union.

Miss Serebryakova, considered a conservative in the continuing Soviet debate over artistic freedom, was once praised by then-Premier Nikita Khrushchev for party loyalty.

She said she prevented publication of her novel by a Moscow magazine "some years ago" because she found she could not write with "full objectivity" about the Stalinist purges. In addition to being sent to Siberia, Miss Serebryakova was twice widowed by the purges.

Swordsman's Link To Drugs

SUNNYVALE, (UPI)—Daniel Bruce Brown, who ran naked through his neighborhood terrorizing residents with a sword, had talked of using marijuana and LSD, Santa Clara County officials said yesterday.

The 19-year-old youth's unexplained rampage ended Christmas Day when Sunnyvale Police Officer Richard Malvin fatally shot him just as Brown prepared to impale the officer with his 42-inch ceremonial sword.

According to Sunnyvale Police officers, Brown had a record of ingesting LSD on his birthday before his 19th birthday in 1949 after graduating from Tamaulipas High School.

He has been in combat in Africa, Italy, Germany and Korea and has been stationed in South Vietnam, Bangkok, Thailand and the Philippines. A calibrating specialist, Strittmatter is now stationed in Okinawa.

A Good Start

ROLLA, Mo. (UPI)—When publisher Edward W. Sowers hired Lou Meinecke, a photographer, he put Meinecke's picture on the front page of the Rolla Daily News with a story with three occasions and once, while sitting naked, told his parents he was cold "like after using marijuana."

Army Sgt. 1c Stanley Strittmatter, a native of Sausalito, completed 23 years of military service this month.

The son of Mrs. Verna Strittmatter, he joined the Army shortly before his 19th birthday in 1949 after graduating from Tamaulipas High School.

He has been in combat in Africa, Italy, Germany and Korea and has been stationed in South Vietnam, Bangkok, Thailand and the Philippines. A calibrating specialist, Strittmatter is now stationed in Okinawa.

Peking Still Silent On Bomb Test

HONG KONG (UPI)—Peking Radio today announced the most abundant harvest in years and credited the thoughts of Chairman Mao Tse-tung. But it remained silent on Communist China's seventh nuclear explosion.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the Christmas Eve atomic blast and scientists in Japan have measured radioactive fallout from it.

The Peking broadcast monitored in this China listening post said the most bountiful harvest was of food grains. As usual, the Communist Chinese gave no figures to substantiate the report.

Economists in Hong Kong who follow Communist Chinese agriculture had estimated that the mainland nation would reap a bumper crop of rice, wheat, potatoes and miscellaneous grains. Most estimates ranged near 190 million tons.

John Wenns, a U.S. Agriculture Department official attached to the consulate general here to study Chinese farming, said the Communists probably would have reaped a record bounty had it not been for the disruptions of Mao's Cultural Revolution. He estimated the harvest at 187 million tons and said the good crop was largely attributable to the best weather in years.

Peking Radio said this year's harvest broke the record set last year.

"This is the glorious fruit of the propagation of Mao's thought in the whole countryside," the broadcast said. "The mighty development and progress of our country's agriculture this year is inseparable from the strong support given by the army."

When Communism China did not mention the nuclear experts thought it was waiting for Tuesday, Mao's 74th birthday. But when the birthday came and went, observers speculated that perhaps something went wrong with the explosion in the Sinking district.

Committee To Fight Commuter Tax Plans

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO — A committee of "business interests and citizens" has been formed here to fight proposals to tax commuters and income from rental of property, an advertising company hired by the committee said today.

Joe Robinson, president of Robinson and Co., said "The Citizens Tax Economy Committee" had been formed to fight the two proposals by Mayor-elect Joseph L. Alioto.

JUNE PRIMARY

Robinson said the committee will try to prohibit the taxes through a charter amendment it hopes to get on the city's June primary ballot.

He said he was "sure" he

Bachelor Bids For President

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — James M. Beasley, a dapper 44-year-old San Francisco bachelor of modest means, figures he holds an ace in his bid to become president of the United States.

"A man who has never held public office has no background of making mistakes," Beasley says. "He's going to make them later."

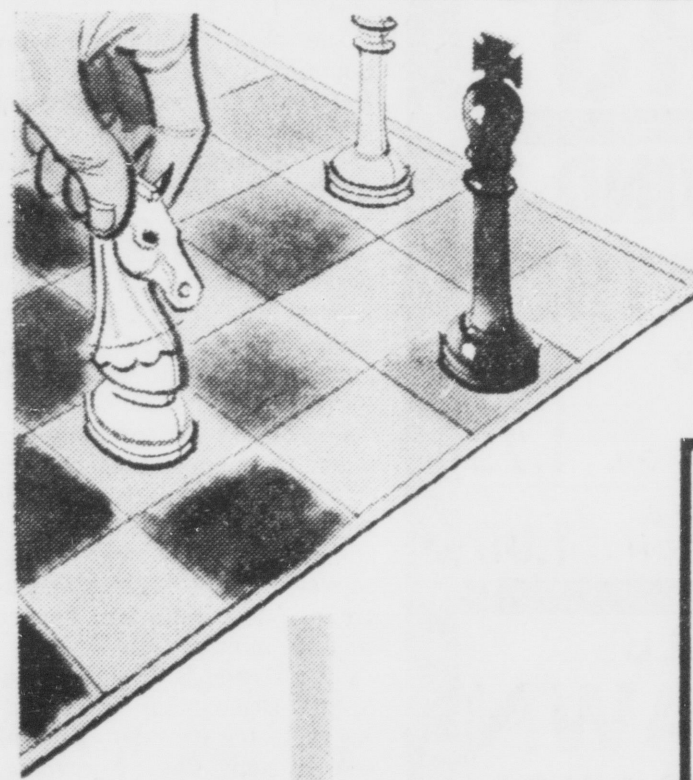

In announcing his candidacy yesterday for the Democratic nomination, Beasley outlined a campaign platform which includes a national program of inviting the poor to dinner as a partial solution to the nation's racial problems.

Symphony Strike Is Nearing End

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The end of a 27-day-old strike by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra appeared near today as warring sides reported negotiation progress.

Reports circulating in music circles indicated the stalled symphony season might resume next week.

Philip S. Boone, Symphony Association president, asked the board of supervisors to postpone a hearing on the dispute and said peace talks had reached a "sensitive and encouraging" status. He did not elaborate.

Alioto Still Insisting On Commuter Tax

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor-elect Joseph Alioto's ambitious plans for San Francisco hit a snag yesterday when the city attorney declared a proposed commuter tax would be "discriminatory and therefore unconstitutional."

The energetic Alioto did not appear discouraged, however, as he continued to outline his ideas for the city at a news conference.

The future mayor also revealed he had persuaded Warner Brothers' producer Phil D'Antoni to build a swimming pool at Hunters Point and hire minority group members as extras in exchange for permission to film a movie at San Francisco International Airport.

PUSH TAX

Alioto said Friday night he would push for a tax of $25-a-year per commuter, the tax to be deducted from paychecks by employers.

San Francisco City Atty. Thomas M. O'Connor said yesterday, however, that Alioto's plan could not be put into effect in the form he proposed. Commuters can be taxed only as part of a general levy against all persons earning their living in San Francisco, O'Connor said.

Alioto said Friday that he is "wedded to a commuter tax."

More than 122,000 commuters enter San Francisco to work each work day, Alioto said. About 20,000 come from Marin, Robinson noted.

City employers annually pay $1.7 billion to city residents and $1.4 billion to commuters who get city police and fire protection and use of city streets, parking lots and cultural events, Alioto said.

"Less spending and not more money is what's needed," said Robinson. "We'll stop the politicians in their tracks."

Robinson lives in San Francisco.

Mailliard Will Be On Sounding Board

Marin's new congressman, William S. Mailliard, whose Sixth District now includes most of the county, will join with Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to discuss reapportionment and other matters on KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

They will answer telephoned questions from listeners. The program will be repeated at 9 p.m. tomorrow over KTIM-FM.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, of South Carolina, holds the Senate record for continuous speaking. He orated for 24 hours and 18 minutes during a filibuster.

More Price Hikes Seen During 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — The present 82-month period of steady economic expansion will continue in 1968, say two private economists, but they also see increased inflation and unemployment ahead.

Price increases of 3.5 per cent — this year they averaged 3 per cent — were predicted yesterday by Dr. Carl H. Madden, chief economist for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. Gerhard Colm, chief economist for the National Planning Association.

Colm said unemployment should creep upward slightly from this year's average of 3.9 per cent but made no firm prediction. Madden forecast an average of 4.2 per cent.

Colm said the gross national product, approximately $785 billion this year, will probably spur to $844.5 billion in 1968. Madden's estimate was $800 billion.

Residential Area Sculpture Approved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A design for a huge wood sculpture at the entrance to the Diamond Heights residential project has been approved by city officials.

The 60-foot high creation of Stefan Novak is intended to serve as both a decorative and safety barrier.

General Electric Co., developer of Red Rock Hill, has earmarked $40,000 for the structure as a civic contribution.

Snowstorm Is Belting Sections Of Midwest

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wind-driven snowstorm pelted the central plains and swept into the Midwest today while bitter-cold temperatures gripped the entire northern tier of states from the Rockies to New England.

The storm which spilled out of the Rockies yesterday blanketed parts of Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri with 1 to 4 inches of snow. Winds of 25 to more than 40 miles an hour heaped the snow into drifts and caused hazardous driving conditions in many sections.

The mercury shriveled to 21 below zero at International Falls, Minn., before dawn.

Rain or drizzle dampened the Pacific Northwest and became a matter of growing concern in northwestern Washington. Soggy dikes gave way and spilled the flooding Snohomish River over a wide lowland area between Everett and Snohomish, north-east of Seattle, late yesterday. The river has been fed by heavy rains and melting mountain snows the past two days.

Dampness of another sort created problems in central California when a dense fog settled over most of Tulare County on yesterday. A series of multiple-vehicle accidents that resulted along U.S. 99 near Visalia injured 47 persons.

The pea-soup blanket also was listed as the cause of a car-train accident that resulted in one death.

A concentration of dense fog was reported early today in Fresno, Tulare and Kings counties. Patches of heavy fog slowed traffic in other central state counties. However, the highway patrol said fewer road accidents occurred today.

$8.1 Million Estate To Strauss Relatives

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An estate valued at $8.1 million was left by Mrs. Claire S. Strauss, wife of investment banker Jack S. Strauss, when she died Sept. 28, a Superior Court inventory showed today.

Half of the amount will go to her three children and the other half to her five grandchildren, being divided when the first reached the age of 35.

Gas Turbine Engine 'Good' Alternative

LONG BEACH (UPI) — A Chrysler Corp. executive says a gas turbine engine may be the best short-range practical alternative to the piston-driven motor.

Byron J. Nichols told a Rotary Club meeting here yesterday electric cars are probably from five to 10 years away from assembly line production, however, and cannot be viewed as "just around the corner" for marketing purposes.

Nichols said the turbine offers a good alternative, but it presents engineering problems in noise, acceleration, fuel consumption and transmission design.

"At the present time — while we look into other avenues of electrical and turbine power — we believe that improving what we already have shows the greatest promise of easing a serious national problem," he said, referring to the emission of air pollutants.

Nichols, a Chrysler vice president, added neither the turbine nor the electric car can immediately solve the air pollution problem of the combustion engine.

Wage Deductions For Remapping Fight Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman who hires legal help to wage a court battle when his seat is threatened by redistricting can't deduct the expenses when figuring his income tax, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Without naming any names, the IRS disclosed yesterday that it had been asked by a congressman about the chances of putting such legal fees down as business expenses. He had hired legal experts to prepare briefs for the courts in his state, which is in the throes of reshaping congressional districts.

These costs don't meet the test of being directly connected with the "trade or business of being a United States congressman," the IRS said.

A Wrong Turn Onto A Runway

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Edward R. Jacobson, 34, was fined $50 and costs yesterday after his auto and a C119 flying boxcar narrowly missed colliding Christmas Eve on a runway at General Mitchell Field.

The plane's pilot saw the car on the runway and was able to avoid a crash by veering onto another strip.

Jacobson told the judge he had intended to get onto a freeway, but made a wrong turn.

Bridge Contract

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state Department of Public Works today awarded a $127,436 contract to Madsen Construction Co. of Napa to replace the narrow bridge across Novato Creek on Novato Boulevard with a wider bridge on an improved alignment.

Kidney Transplant Cases Doing Well

NEW YORK (AP) — A young woman is reported "doing splendidly" after a kidney transplant operation which doctors say was the first known U.S. case preceded by extensive tissue compatibility testing.

The tests were made on both the recipient, Sylvia Szlak, 20, German-born daughter of concentration camp survivors, and the donor prior to the surgery at Bellevue Hospital five days ago.

In other transplant cases, two Iowa patients were reported in good condition at the Cleveland Clinic yesterday after each received a kidney taken from a Pennsylvania boy who died on Christmas.

RARE TISSUE

The Bellevue doctors said Miss Szlak had only a 1-in-20 chance of locating a compatible donor because of her own tissue type.

Her own diseased kidneys had been removed last October and she was connected to an artificial kidney machine at Bellevue when the potential donor was found in the emergency ward.

In a four-hour series of tests, doctors found the donor—a 45-year-old woman who had suffered a stroke—had tissue that was "unusually compatible" with that of Miss Szlak.

The transplant was effected in a 90-minute operation after the donor died Friday evening. Since then the transplanted organ has functioned normally the doctors said.

Because of the tissue compatibility factor, they said, less drug and radiation treatment was needed to forestall the body's normal rejection of foreign tissue.

A five-surgeon team headed by Dr. Felix Rapaport, associate professor of surgery at New York University School of Medicine, performed the operation.

IOWA PATIENTS

The two Iowa patients are Mrs. Patty Kerr, 39, of Chariton and Richard Leeper, 39, a farmer from Keokuk. They had been "waiting for months" for a transplant, a clinic spokesman said.

The youth, Richard Stivers of West Springfield, Pa., was hit by a truck while sledding and died at Brown Memorial Hospital in Conneaut, Ohio, about 60 miles east of Cleveland.

Dr. Bruce H. Stewart and two associates from the clinic removed the kidneys and then rushed back to Cleveland with an escort from the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Federal Agencies Smooth Way For Mineralking Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today plans are ready to proceed on the development of a $35 million recreational complex at Mineral King, (Tulare County) by Walt Disney Productions of Los Angeles. The project will be built in the Sequoia National Forest in California's high sierra.

The development had been delayed for about nine months because of opposition of Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall. The development will require the construction of a $20-million roadway, some of it passing through the Sequoia National Park which is under Udall's control.

Freeman said that Udall's department has agreed to prepare necessary right-of-way agreements so the California Division of Highways can proceed in building a limited-access two-lane route to the recreational site.

The State of California will finance the road construction.

The year-round recreational complex will include ski runs, swimming, camping, horseback riding and trails for hiking.

Udall and many conservation leaders had opposed the project on the grounds it would destroy natural beauty resources and create problems of land erosion and stream pollution. Some also expressed fear the project would damage the valuable Sequoia tree specimens in the national forest.

Freeman's statement said that steps will be taken to preserve esthetic values and to prevent erosion and stream pollution.

Asst. Secretary of Agriculture John A. Baker told newsmen the recreational project will not be a "cheap honky tonk but a really high class" development.

The Disney concern plans to have recreational facilities costing about $11.5 million in use within a year after start of the project. Its full investment is expected to be about $35 million by 1976.

$150,000 Order To The Florist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — About $150,000 worth of flowers—over five million blossoms—is being delivered to Lee Miller this week.

As if it wasn't enough, he telephoned yesterday to Holland for more tulips.

Miller is designing and building 11 of the 60 floats for the Rose Parade in nearby Pasadena New Year's Day. He's been making floats for the parade since 1925.

Swastika Is Burned Into Center's Lawn

Pranksters burned a swastika into the front lawn at the Marinwood Community Center at 8:45 p.m. yesterday.

Firemen said the culprits poured gasoline on the lawn in front of the parking lot to form a swastika about four feet square and set it ablaze. No buildings were endangered. A passerby noticed the flames and called firemen.

Cyrus Ching, U.S. Labor Expert Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cyrus S. Ching, who became the government's top labor-management mediator after a long career in industry, died today after a heart attack. He was 91.

A giant of a man, he was an impressive figure in the Washington scene both because of his accomplishments and the craggy appearance of his 6-foot, 7-inch frame.

Ching was 71 when President Harry S. Truman appointed him in 1947 to head the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, just being established as an independent agency under the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. In that post, he had a major part in settling some and averting other major strikes in the post-World War II period.

Truman also drafted Ching to head the Wage Stabilization Board during the Korean war. Later, Ching returned to the mediation service where he remained until September 1952.

In 1953, President Dwight D. Eisenhower appointed him chairman of the atomic energy labor-management relations panel, a post he held at the time of his death.

Ching had been director of industrial and public relations for the United States Rubber Co. for 28 years before moving into the government's mediation service in 1947.

He is survived by his widow, Mildred, and a sister, Elsie Kid-son of Prince Edward Island. Funeral services will be held at Naugatuck, Conn.

East German Reds Want Sweet Smelling Farmers

BERLIN, Germany (GF) — East German's cosmetics industry has launched a campaign to tap a heretofore neglected group of customers. "Every male comrade on a collective farm owes it to the women folk to keep himself spruced up."

With this and similar advertising phrases, Communist perfume is not only for women and there are new brands like "Hart fur Manner" ("Hard for Men") to drive home the point. Other varieties for men are called "Fluid of Success" and "Security."

The campaign forms part of an effort to fill new state announced goals, which foresee an increase of 40 per cent in cosmetic production in East Germany by 1970.

Planners also hope along the way to produce a broader selection of cosmetics in more eye-pleasing packages and containers to raise exports to the West. An export increase of 60 per cent is envisioned by the turn of the decade, which would mean more badly needed hard Western currency for the East Germans, improving their foreign exchange position.

The planners also hope new varieties and packaging will appeal to East German women, who look to Western imports now when they want cosmetics.

GHETTO RIOTING CURES PROPOSED

Community Unions, Self Policing Recommended To Avert New Woes

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — Reform of welfare laws, community unions, self-policed ghettos and termination of many urban renewal projects are among proposals being recommended to stave off city riots.

The recommendations were made by six authorities testifying before the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

Most of the witnesses expressed pessimism on the prospects for civil peace. Dr. Herbert J. Gans, well-known sociologist at the Center for Urban Education, added a qualification.

He said the majority of the ghetto is not yet desperate enough to find value in militancy. But if the nation delays action and fall back on repression in the face of unrest, it can "look forward to a long and bloody guerrilla type civil war between the races."

Of 20 high-priority action programs, Dr. Gans put creation at the top of the list and called for a public works program, backed up with a massive job training program. Congress this year defeated a Senate-sponsored bill to provide such programs, but President Johnson keeps threatening Federal provision of jobs, if industry cannot provide them.

Dr. Gans also called for auxiliary police forces in the ghettos, staffed by the residents themselves, under Federal grants. "The police force is saddled with keeping the lid on the angry poor and segregated, and its task is insurmountable until poverty and segregation are eliminated. Until then, the best solution may be for the ghetto to police itself," said Dr. Gans.

In addition, the government should halt all urban renewal that dislocates the poor without providing adequate housing elsewhere, the sociologist said.

William L. Taylor, staff director of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission pointed out another sore spot in urban renewal. In the course of a long-delayed renewal program in Cleveland, the city simply stopped enforcing housing codes to keep down acquisition costs, said Taylor. "If there is anything which in my opinion tends to incite a riot, this it is."

A union representative, Paul Schrade, director of the United Auto Workers Western Region Six, called for a new type of community based union to bring about change in the nation.

He said such a union in Watts, built by residents and unions with some Federal money could be a model. It succeeded in blocking a plan by Douglas Aircraft and the Labor Department to import 1,600 aircraft assemblers from New York for jobs in Long Beach, Calif., at a cost of $3 million to the Federal Government.

Schrade said the Watts union went on a public campaign to stop the plan and then recruited ghetto residents to fill the jobs.

The Government can help to some degree in creating community unions, but the main impetus should come from established unions, said Schrade.

Japan, Soviets Join In Earth Crust Study

By SCIENCE SERVICE

TOKYO — Preparations are underway for Japan's first joint scientific project with a Communist country: an investigation of the earth's upper mantle in cooperation with the Soviets.

The three-year project will blast off this summer with the first of a series of dynamite explosions set to create artificial earthquakes. The goal of the project is to learn more about the earth's interior structure from the Siberian land mass to Hokkaido to the northwest Pacific, and to investigate the origin of the Pacific volcanic belt and of the Japanese archipelago.

In the first phase, artificial earthquakes will be created in the ocean off Siberia and in the northwest Pacific (by Russia) and on Hokkaido and in the Japan Sea (by Japan). Twenty land stations will monitor the shocks.

Because of anticipated difficulties in communicating — not many Japanese scientists speak Russian, nor Russian scientists Japanese — and because it will be the first time that teams from the two countries have worked together, the first year's work is of modest scale compared to that which will follow.

The project was proposed by Russian scientists at the time of the Pacific Science Congress, held in Tokyo in August, 1966. Members of the Soviet Academy of Science's Oceanographic Institute will work with Japanese experts from the Tokyo University Seismological Research Laboratory, and from Hokkaido University and other institutions.

In a rehearsal for the project, 43 Japanese seismologists and other researchers recently gathered at Matsushiro, the Nagano Prefecture region which has been shaken by thousands of quakes over the past few years.

There they planted 400 pounds of dynamite 150 feet below the surface of the ground, at two locations about 30 miles apart.

The shock waves from the detonations were recorded at 19 field stations spaced between the sites. The experiment was repeated four times, to investigate the crust at a six-mile depth.

They will be installed at the Cloud Five Restaurant Jan. 6.

A Delicious Oldtime Icing For The New Year's Dinner

A delicious oldtime icing for Lane Cake or another variety. Roast Turkey, Stuffing, Gravy Parsnip Puff Gree Beans Relish Tray Bread Basket Land Cake with Emma R. Law's Frosting

EMMA R. LAW'S FROSTING
½ cup sugar
¼ cup white corn syrup
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons water
2 egg whites
½ teaspoon vanilla
In a 1-quart saucepan put the sugar, corn syrup, salt and water. Over moderately low heat, with a rubber spatula, stir several times to dissolve sugar, scraping undissolved grains from sides of pan. Over moderate heat boil until syrup spins a thread or to 242 degrees on a candy thermometer. Shortly before syrup is ready, beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks. Gradually beat about half the syrup into the beaten whites. (Place saucepan with remaining syrup in a skillet of hot water, off heat, to keep warm.) Continue beating egg white mixture until thick and fluffy. Gradually beat in remaining warm syrup and vanilla; continue to beat, if necessary, until mixture holds stiff shiny peaks. Enough frosting to cover top and sides of a layer cake made with about 3 cups flour — 2 to 4 layers.

VITAMIN BONUS

Before Time Entertaining

For speed and ease in making specialties ahead of time when entertaining, experts recommend apricots.

The gay, bright color of apricots is inviting to the eye. The taste is pleasant. As a bonus, there is plenty of Vitamin A in apricots.

APRICOT CREAM (4 servings)

1 No. 2½ can of apricot halves (Drained)
½ pint cream, whipped
½ cup liquid from apricots
½ cup powdered sugar
Put the apricots, the liquid and sugar in a mixer or blender until smooth. Fold the apricot mixture into the whipped cream. Pour into freezing tray and freeze until solid.

APRICOT-WALNUT BREAD

2½ cups of packaged biscuit mix
1 cup uncooked rolled oats
¾ cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
½ cup of snipped, dried apricots
1 cup broken walnut meats
1 egg, well beaten
1¼ cups milk
Heat oven to 350 degrees.

Grease and flour a 9x5x3 inch loaf pan. Put with the biscuit mix, the rolled oats, salt, sugar, baking powder. Next, stir in the apricots and nuts until well coated. Blend milk into the well beaten egg. Quickly stir into the other mixture, then beat for 30 seconds. Bake 1 hour, or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 15 minutes. Remove, put bread on rack. Let mellow overnight, wrapped in foil.

1 3-ounce can sliced mushrooms, drained (½ cup)
1 tablespoon brown sugar

ERNST 'AT HOME' IN TIBURON WITH HIS HAREM

Marin's noted tiemaker Ernst wears Baghdad Britches and his new sweater shirt as he introduces his harem in men's and women's fashions in the Oriental garden of his home in Tiburon. The Ernst entry into the field of fashion introduces such creations as the Katua (Indian word for shirt) Sphinx, Sahara, Gypsy and the new Shankar. Today, along with his ties, Ernst makes a total of 30 products.

Among the better known products are women's shifts, night gowns for men and women (Night Games) Happi coats, table clothes, pillows, aprons, ascots, tote bags, caps, napkins, placemats and shirts. Ernst has built his necktie empire from a week-end hobby and attic operation. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Dallis Jean Manwaring Plans June Wedding At St. John's

Their cabin at Donner Lake in the Sierra was the setting for the announcement yesterday of the engagement of their daughter, Dallis Jean Manwaring to Allan James Thompson by Dr. and Mrs. John Manwaring of Ross.

Jean is the sister of John David Manwaring and Elizabeth Ann Manwaring of Ross, and she is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Smith of Ross.

A graduate of the Katharine Branson School, the bride-elect attended Northwestern University, College of Marin and will attend University of California. Her sorority is Alpha Omicron Pi.

Allan is the son of Mrs. Richard Burtz of San Francisco and the late Virgil S. Thompson, and Mrs. Richard Duffett of San Diego is his sister. He was graduated from San Diego High School, attended College of Marin and is a student at University of California. Allan

Tiburon Designer Takes Off On New Tack That's Far Out

By PATRICIA ZINN

"Bold and beautiful" is how Tiburon's renowned tiemaker Ernst describes the creations which mark his recent debut as a fashion designer.

Ernst, whose hobby of making ties has grown into a vast necktie empire, is now making the scene with such interchangeable combinations as "Night Games" (wild nightgowns for men and women) Baghdad Britches, Gypsy, Sahara, Katua (Indian shirt) and the new Shankar.

TODAY, ALONG with his ties, Beall Ernst has designed a total of 30 products including, table clothes, pillows, aprons, ascots, tote bags, caps, napkins, placemats and shirts.

Ernst, whose ambition is to build his name as a designer, chooses his exotic handwoven fabrics from all over the world: dress materials and decorator designs, raw silks, hand blocked light weight wool, fine Sealamandre silks, cashmerized cotton and even burlap. As a result his fabrics are a seemingly infinite variety of striplings and an endless stream of solids and prints in subtle shadings and color combinations.

WHEN HE IS not playing the role of president of his firm, Ernst enjoys his hobby of making ceramics. His home in Tiburon is filled with his own creations as well as his collection of Imari porcelain.

Currently Ernst is looking to the future with the newly designed wool shirt and sweater, Sweatshirt, for fall and his beach and bath towel sets, not to mention the Mao Collar, etc., etc., etc.

Chemical Hair Straighteners May Be Risky

Although current fashion may be enough to curl the hair, Dame Fashion insists that the chic head be slick. To achieve this look is do-able, but not without some risk, according to a report in the American Medical Association magazine, Today's Health.

Pomades work temporarily but are so greasy that they are impractical for all except those with minimal locks.

The three types of chemical hair straighteners in general use react with and alter the chemical structure of the hair, resulting in permanent uncurling.

The alkali straighteners, because their action is so rapid, and because they can cause serious burns, are best applied by experienced operators. Thioglycolate straighteners, while somewhat safer to use, are not quite so effective. Bisulfate straighteners, or curl "relaxers", are the newest and least dangerous for home use.

NEW TWIGGY

Vampish Styles Are Harking

By NADEANE WALKER

LONDON (AP) — After running the gamut in 1967 from miniskirts barely covering the thigh to maxiskirts nearly down to the ankle, British fashion is looking ahead to a new year heavily influenced by vampish styles harking back to the '30s.

Twiggy's already going in for it, and where this modern Pied Piper leads, fashion seems to follow. The new Twiggy, with a sexy red cupid's bow mouth, marcelled hair and long diamante earrings, is hardly recognizable as the boyish figure with Eton crop and hardly a trace of makeup that set New York on its ear last spring.

SALMON PINK and dove grey are the new year's pet colors and hairdressers are already turning heads to flat finger waves like Wallis Simpson wore when she married the Duke of Windsor in 1936. Even shoes are going back to the round-toed shape of that era, while red lipstick is making a slow but sure return to change the very face of fashion.

At the moment, it's a mad mixture of very brief minis worn with bright tights and tall boots and — at the other extreme Bonnie and Clyde freakouts with long belted sweaters, long swinging skirts and berets tilted on long, lank hair.

THE GIRLS behind the counters in the trendy boutiques are going in increasingly for the latter look, and so are many of the swingers on King's Road.

Boutiques were on the boom in 1967 with little ones sprouting like mushrooms and the crazier the name the better.

Granny Takes a Trip, The Carrot on Wheels, The Square Orange, and I Was Lord Kitchener's Valet were only a few of the more successful ones.

Carnaby Street, a sensation at the beginning of the year, is agreed by almost everybody to be "old hat" and "tatty" by now.

By HELEN BOTTEL

His Former Wife Punched Him And He Is Still Kicking Back

DEAR HELEN:

My husband snores. That isn't the problem. My former husband snored, and I taught myself to sleep through it.

The problem is Stanley's ex-wife didn't sleep through it. She poked and punched him all night, and he fought back, with hearty kicks. They got to be a reflex with him, he says.

So now, every time I turn over in bed, or throw my arm around him in my sleep, I get a kick that almost knocks me on the floor. Stanley feels terrible about it. I have black and blue marks; they are hard to explain. Sometimes he even punches, and that's worse. Otherwise he's tops as a husband.

Outside of twin beds, what's the answer? — BLACK AND BLUE

DEAR B AND B:

Outside of hobbling your husband's ankles and wrists, twin beds are the only answer, unless he can re-train his subconscious. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our daughter is 21. When she graduated from high school, she got a good job with a big company. She didn't like her boss, so she quit. She has made no attempt to get another job, but stays out till two and three in the morning.

We gave her a new car for graduation. My husband pays the insurance and gas. He gives her $10 any time she asks for it. Often she hits me up for money too, and I find out later he has already donated. She runs up bills, and we pay them. We are not wealthy, as both of us are on semi-retirement.

She sleeps until afternoon. I wash and iron her clothes, clean up her messes.

My husband seems scared of her. He gives her whatever she wants to keep her living the high life.

Sometimes I think our 12 year old granddaughter is smarter than we are. She says as long as we give our daughter everything why should she work for it? — HELP

DEAR HELP:

Your granddaughter is so right! Why should a lazy girl work when she can work her parents?

Don't lay all the blame on husband. Who does her laundry, lets her sleep all day and also shells out when she hits you up for extra cash? If you get tough, he may follow your lead. For her sake as well as yours, I hope so! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

As a social worker, I must say that smart and happy's elaborate advice on how to prevent husbandly indiscretions and keep him content is immature and superficial. She tinted her hair, updated her appearance, learned how to fish, even rubbed after shave powder into the pillow cases.

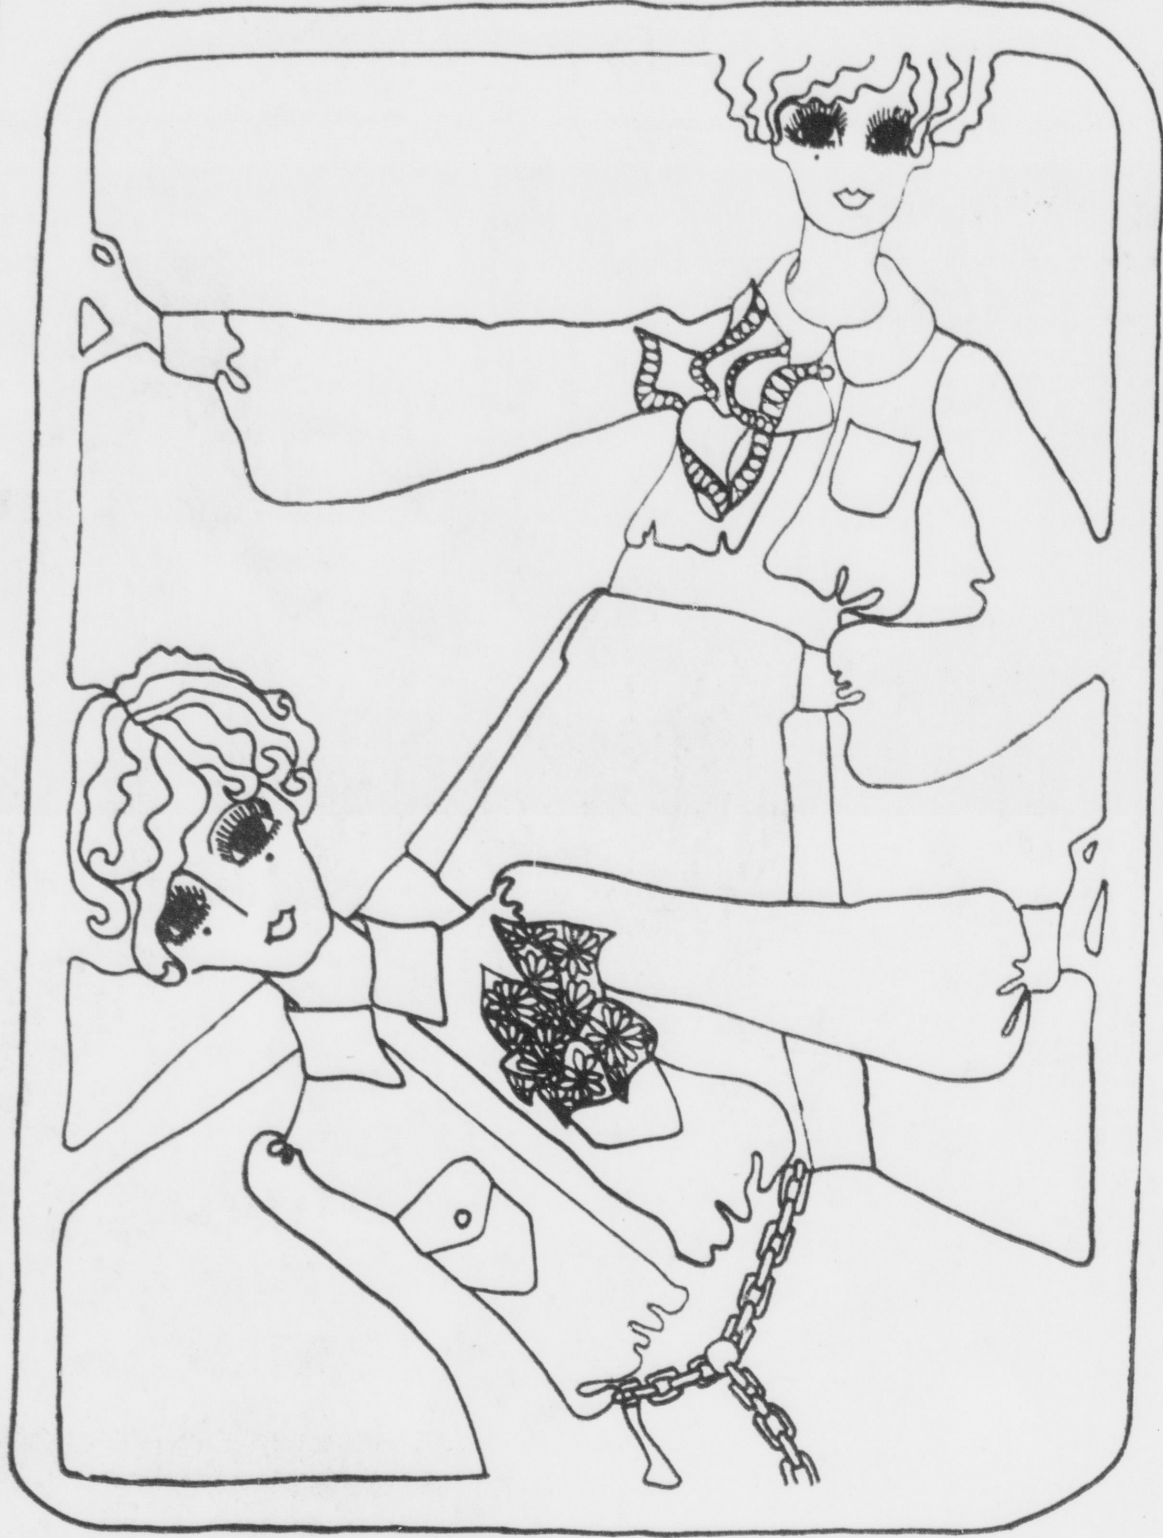

Evidently she considered herself the sole cause of her husband's transgressions, but the man has an equal responsibility for holding a marriage together. Communication is the essential. If there is a lack of fulfillment, they should verbalize. Once having established meaningful communication, they will strive to please each other with considerate understanding that goes deeper than mere outward appearances. Only then will they reap the rewards of a reasonably happy marriage. — COUNSELLOR

DEAR COUNSELLOR:

Look, my fine flowery social worker. S. and H's "immature and superficial" actions paved the way for communication, and after five years the lines are still happily open. Even if the operation was lopsided, the patient lived, and that's the important thing.

Many a wife who tries talking it out cold turkey, and neglects the trimmings, ends up verbalizing to a lawyer. — H.

Skirt Plus Shirt Features Highly-Engineered Blouse

Fashion has split in two — Shirt plus skirt — sharply defined by a belt separating the parts. The two-piece revival has taken over as clothes move in closer to the body and waistlines stage a comeback.

The top half, the blouse, has grown up into a shirt. Neat, skinny, highly styled and engineered to a close-to-the-body shapeliness. Roomy blouses, bought to go with something or everything, step aside to make way for the personality shirts, shirts that are so smart that they are the initial purchase, and everything else is bought to coordinate with them.

The new body shirt borrows the easy fit tailoring of a man's shirt, but from there it goes its strictly feminine way. Its crisp appearance is 100 per cent female in Irish Linen that adapts beautifully to sleek lines and smart styles.

Color is the balancer in the other half of the silhouette, the skirt, or the jacket or sweater that goes over this split fashion ticket.

The skirt and shirt leads a well-rounded fashion life. Its day-time activity is varied. This duo does full-time duty for the business girl tending to her office job. Her efficiency is highlighted by tailored linen shirt, long-sleeved, high-necked and collared, and many-pocketed. She teams this up with a skirt that loves ease of movement with flare or pleats in a dark solid color or pattern or sophisticated tweed. The parts are joined by a wide belt that blends with outfit to give it a put-together look.

For the leisure life, again the choice is the nicely mannered lines of shirt. This time it favors a pleated skirt or culotte, in a schoolgirl plaid or a bright color. The two parts get together with the addition of a swingy chain belt latched loosely around the waist.

When night falls and the linen shirt makes its most dramatic appearance. The ultimate in chic is the shirt worn for evening, softened by fuller, billowy sleeves, the addition of ruffles or laces, big round collars and wide cuffs or sparkling rhinestone buttons.

To complete this pretty girl look is a round, little dirndle skirt in a sophisticated black or dark colored wool flannel or holiday velvet. The skirt length is short for little evenings, to-the-ankle for formal occasions, or a long flowing culotte for a super fashion rating. Defining the waist is a shiny and bejeweled chain belt or a wide self-fabric belt buckled in rhinestones.

Good Combination

To have a good flavor combination, add grated orange rind to a white or yellow cake batter and frost the cake with chocolate icing.

Geoffrey S. Barnard Weds In Quaker Ceremony In The East

An unusual wedding on Dec. 17 was the Quaker ceremony held at 3 p.m. in the Hartford Friends Meeting House in West Hartford, Conn., that united in marriage Geoffrey Symmes Barnard of Mill Valley and Elizabeth Helfrick of Manchester, Conn.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Francis Woodrow Helfrick of Manchester, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barnard of Mill Valley, who went east for the wedding, together with Geoffrey's great aunt, Mrs. Robert Bowie, and her husband, Dr. Bowie, of Mill Valley.

Following a period of silent meditation during a regular worship period the couple exchanged nuptial vows without an officiating clergyman since each member of the congregation played a part in the marriage as legal witness and through contribution to the sense of community in silent meditation or spoken words.

After the couple signed the wedding certification, it was read aloud and following a second period of meditation anyone wishing to speak was invited to do so. The ceremony concluded with all present signing the certificate.

The bride wore a full length white Italian brocade gown fashioned with square neckline and bell sleeves and a gold and pearl pendant that had been worn at her wedding by the bridegroom's mother.

The bride's sister, Margaret and Sylvia Helfrick of Manchester, were attired in short blue and green, respectively, dresses of peau de soie with square necklines and bell sleeves.

Ushers were the bride's brother, John Helfrick of Manchester, and the bridegroom's brother, Dr. Raiston White Barnard of Bernardsville, N.J.

After the marriage a reception for all present held in the meeting house was followed by a buffet dinner for all relatives of the couple hosted by the bride's parents at their home.

The newly married pair spent a honeymoon in Vermont and will live in Palo Alto, where Geoffrey is attending the Stanford Graduate School of Business. He is a graduate of Tualpais High School, and both of the young people were graduated from Stanford University last June.

The new Mrs. Barnard's other sisters are Dorothy and Christina Helfrick of Manchester.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Don't shove back into the closet a dress that's been ripped, a skirt that has a stain.

Instead, repair the tear and send the garments to the drycleaner immediately. The National Institute of Drycleaning reminds that the longer a stain remains, the more permanent it becomes. Time may heal wounds, but it sets stains.

Salt and pepper 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon peel
6 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Sprinkle lamb with salt and pepper; place on skewers. Broil 6 to 7 inches from source of heat 12 to 15 minutes on each side or until chops are as done as you like. Just before serving, spread with butter or margarine blended with parsley, lemon peel and juice.

CONRAD LUDLOW

Ballet Star Keeps Young

By MAYBELLE SPECKMAN

Conrad Ludlow, who is rated one of the top male ballet dancers in the world today, looked yesterday hardly a day older than he did when we first wrote about him not long after he was graduated from Tamalpais High School.

He and his wife, Joy, and 5-year-old son, Rhys, are staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ludlow, at their home in Mill Valley while he is dancing the leading role of the Cavalier in the San Francisco Ballet's acclaimed new production of the "Nutcracker" at the San Francisco Opera House.

GUEST ARTIST

The ballet continues through Sunday, and Ludlow will appear in all except the matinee on Saturday, when he will be seen in the evening performance. He is a guest artist, for he is regularly principal dancer with the New York City Ballet.

"I have danced every male role in this ballet," he says, "from a mouse, a parent and the Nutcracker himself to the Cavalier, which was one of my earliest leading roles."

Ludlow started dancing at 8 and had many a scrap, with fellow students at Old Mill School over being a ballet dancer, but at Tamalpais High School, where he was graduated in 1953, recognition of his athletic prowess put a stop to that.

STRENGTH NEEDED

"A male ballet dancer really has to be a top athlete," he maintains. "I don't like the trend among male dancers who take the same classes and learn the same technique as ballerinas. They can perform beautiful arabesques that make the girls rave how much better they are than those they can do, but this isn't right for a male dancer."

"I believe isometrics for a man in ballet are absolutely essential to build strength in the fastest way possible — so I do many isometric exercises, especially to develop the strength in the upper body needed to lift a ballerina. I also do a lot of yoga exercises for inner stretching."

Ludlow's wife Joy noted that he is especially known for his fine partnering of ballerinas. She should know, for she is a former ballerina with the New York City Ballet who is now satisfied to be a housewife and mother, believing one dancer in the family is enough.

"The male dancer can make a ballerina look bad or good," she says.

PARTNER FROM MARIN

For this reason Ludlow's partner, Lynda Meyer of Corte Madera, who will be dancing the Sugar Plum Fairy, can count herself lucky.

"One of my greatest interests is adagio work and the sculpture effects possible for two people dancing," Ludlow said. "As for any special feats that a male dancer performs solo, such as high leaps, this can be mere circus stuff and athleticism."

Mrs. Ludlow added that ballet techniques for which her husband is especially known are his double tours, pirouettes and en-trechats (crossing of the feet in a jump) with six beats performed 16 times in succession. The record of Vaslav Nijinsky, the Russian great, was ten beats, Ludlow says.

Ludlow believes there is more interest in ballet today, noting that New York City Ballet Performances are always sold out before the season opens.

His only quarrel with his profession is the flimsy ballet slippers he has to wear.

"If I could only wear tennis

RETURN — Ballet dancer Conrad Ludlow; his wife, Joy, and their son, Rhys, 5, view scrapbook kept by Ludlow's mother in Mill Valley since he began dancing at 8. IN 'NUTCRACKER' — Mill Valley's Conrad Ludlow performs a jete, or leap.

shoes," he laughed, "I could improve my technique 30 per cent."

Since moving from Mill Valley, Ludlow's rise in the world of ballet has been rapid.

Jewish Festival Of Chanukah Being Observed

Chanukah, the Jewish "Festival of Lights," began at sundown yesterday with the lighting of the first Menorah candle by Jewish families throughout the world.

During each night of the eight-day festival, a new candle is lit in an eight-branch candelabrum.

The festival commemorates the Hebrew struggle for religious freedom from the Greco-Syrian emperor Antiochus Epiphanes in 165 B.C.

In that year, when the emperor ordered the temple in Jerusalem be used for sacrifices, the Jews rebelled and, after three years of fighting, reconquered Jerusalem. All that remains today of the temple is the "Wailing Wall."

The festival carries special significance this year, with the old part of Jerusalem — including the temple remains — now in Israeli hands.

According to legend, only one cruse of oil for the holy lamps of the temple had been left undiluted. The oil, enough to last only for one day, miraculously lasted for eight days.

The Hebrew word Chanukah means rededication. The festival includes children's games and the exchange of gifts.

Yule Lights Are Thieves' Target

Three cases of theft of outdoor lights were reported yesterday in the Belvedere-Tiburon area.

Robert S. Ingram told Belvedere police that, during the past week, 18 lights were taken from a hedge in front of his residence at 15 Crest Road.

Michel Pigat, of 26 Apollo Road, and William Richtman of 11 Apollo Road, both Tiburon, told sheriff's deputies that several lights were taken from their front yards the past week.

Reservations Open For New Year Fete

Reservations are still available for the annual New Year's Eve party from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. at the Marinwood Community Center.

Reservations for the party, open to Marinwood residents and non-residents, may be made by telephoning the center or Wayne H. Heldt, of 230 Blackstone Drive. The admission price includes dinner, dancing, party favors and refreshments.

Bolinas Harbor

The Bolinas Harbor District Board will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Bolinas Community Center. The agenda is routine, according to district planning consultant Norman T. Gilroy.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1967 23

Speeder Booked For Possession Of Marijuana

Alex James Palmer, 25, of Daly City, wearing a flat, flower fringed hat and varicolor striped pants, and driving 80 miles an hour when halted by police, was booked for marijuana possession early today in Novato.

Palmer is an electronics technician. Sgt. William M. Cann said he stopped the suspect, going east on Highway 37 at Atherton Avenue, at 3 a.m.

Cann said he smelled a strong odor of marijuana on Palmer's garb and inside the car.

Searching the car, Cann said he found a quantity of marijuana in a black, record album bag, and an unidentified substance in some film cartridges. Palmer was taken to the county jail. Bail had not been set today.

Judge Goldstein Will Head Court

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. has been named presiding judge of Marin Municipal Court during 1968.

Judge Hadden W. Roth will hear the criminal calendar and Judge Peter Allen Smith will hear traffic cases during the first four months of the year, Judge Goldstein announced.

The three lower court judges will sit alternately in Superior Court during February, May and September, to help with the backlog of Superior Court cases, he said.

Peace Party Hopeful Of Getting On Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO — The Peace and Freedom Party cautiously predicted today it will qualify for California's 1968 presidential ballot.

The party, which has until Tuesday to submit party registrations to county clerks, says it has signed up 1,000 persons in Marin County.

"We expect to squeak through by the skin of our teeth," state party administrator Jack Weinberg told a news conference yesterday. Statewide, the party needs 66,059 registrations, and as of last night had more than 44,000, Weinberg said.

Registrations have increased 10-fold in the past few days because many party workers are taking their annual vacations to work as registrars, he said.

Weinberg gave a county-by-county breakdown of registrations that included 1,000 in Marin.

However, Marin's assistant county clerk for elections, John F. Musser Jr., said today the names of only 500 party registrants had been turned into his office.

Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's American Independent Party has registered fewer than 100 persons in Marin, Musser said.

Local organizers of the Peace and Freedom Party said in October that they hoped to get 1,000 registrations in Marin.

New Sixth Army Chief Is Named

Maj. Gen. James H. Skeldon, Korean War hero, was named Sixth Army Chief of Staff yesterday to succeed Maj. Gen. Norman B. Edwards, of San Rafael, who will retire from the Army on Sunday.

General Skeldon, whose headquarters will be in the Presidio of San Francisco, has been serving as chief of the U.S. Army Advisory Group, Korea, since August, 1965.

A native of Toledo, Ohio, he graduated from West Point in 1937. During World War II, he served in the Panama Canal Zone and in Europe.

During nine months of combat with the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea, he was twice awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, and also received the Silver Star, the Bronze Star for valor, the Army Commendation Ribbon and the Purple Heart.

After the Korean War, Gen. Skeldon served in Norway and Germany.

He and his wife, Elaine, have three daughters.

A Bird In The Hand Means Scientist Is At Work

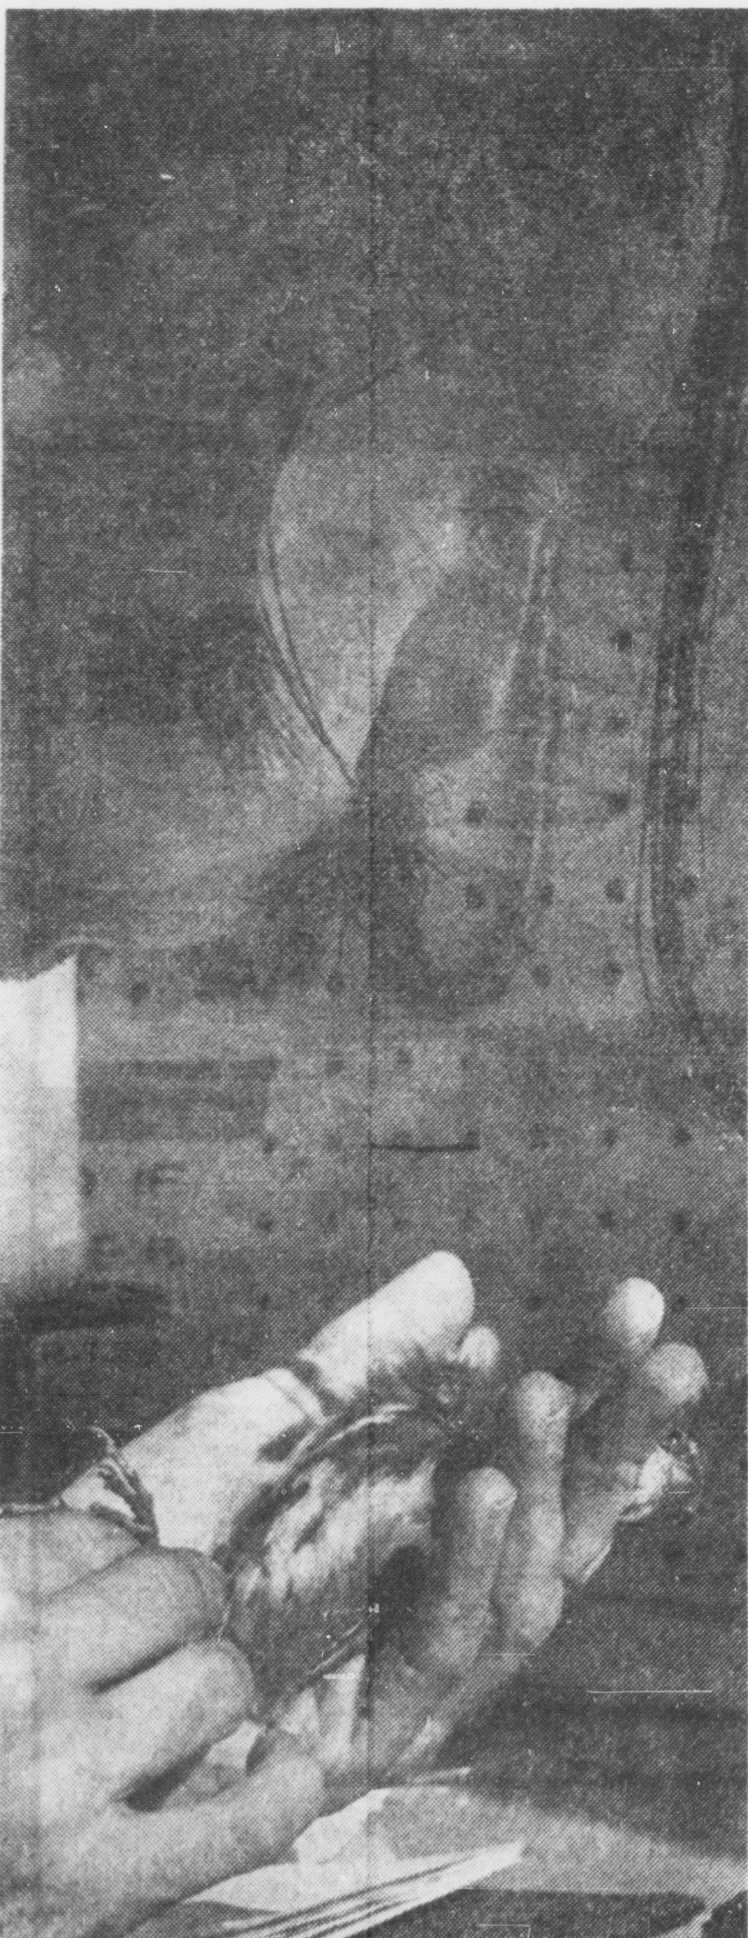

BIRD NET—A bird is gently freed from hair-thin strands of netting by biologist Phillip Lenna at Point Reyes Bird Observatory. The observatory, located near Bolinas at the southern tip of Point Reyes National Seashore, is the only bird station in North America operating year-round.

TRAPPED—Small birds are trapped in wire cages when they come to eat grain bait put out by scientists. Lenna reaches for a bird, to be put in the laundry bag and returned to the nearby laboratory for closer inspection. The bird observatory is supported by donations from more than 500 persons.

FAT?—Holding this golden crowned sparrow, Lenna blows up the feathers on its chest to check accumulated fat as an indication of whether the bird is lean from possible recent migration or fat and perhaps ready to move on. The bird's age will be determined by inspection of the skull structure.

WEIGHED—A rufous-sided towhee is placed head down for a few seconds in an old plastic deodorant container, with air holes cut in the bottom, to keep it quiet while being weighed. The towhee weighed in at 44.3 grams; a tiny kinglet weighed 6.3 grams. Scientists check age, sex, weight, fat and degree of molt to learn details of bird life.

BANDED—A golden crowned sparrow squirms as a metal band encircles its leg. The bird, if recaptured here or captured at another bird observing station, will be measured, examined and have its band number recorded to determine its habits and range. More than 6,800 birds were banded last year at the observatory.

MEASURED—A sparrow's wing is measured to help scientists tell its age, indicate species and keep a record on bird size. Scientists are making a study at the observatory of the ecology of the white crowned sparrow. The National Park Service is helping finance a study of shore birds at the national seashore.

SOGGY WORK—Biologist Phillip Lenna, center, a volunteer from Berkeley, and a visiting bird lover from New York pluck birds from nets in the marshy swamps near Limantour Spit at the national seashore as part of a government-financed study of shore birds. It's a night-long job. (Independent-Journal photos by Ellen Bry)

Armed Felons Surrender To Lone Warden

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — As two prisoners held a guard hostage with a knife to his throat, Warden Murray Henderson stepped alone into a Tennessee State Prison cellblock last night and talked the men into surrendering.

"You don't get things done that way," Henderson told the men.

TWO SURRENDER

The prisoners, Donald Lee Hancock, 21, and William T. Arthur, 29, turned over their weapons without further resistance and were placed in a maximum security unit.

The warden's action ended a brief flareup of violence which began at a Christmas music show and ended with three guards hospitalized with stab wounds.

Both Hancock and Arthur denied stabbing the guards, and officers canvassed the prison early today for weapons on other inmates.

STAB VICTIMS

State Corrections Commissioner Harry Avery said the injured guards were Aubrey Hollingsworth and William A. Fields, both of Nashville, and Herschel L. Currie of Columbia, Tenn.

Hollingsworth and Currie, both with stab wounds in the chest and abdomen, were listed in serious condition at a hospital, and Fields, stabbed in the back, was described as fair.

Alerted at his home after the outbreak, Henderson rushed to the prison and found Hancock and Arthur with a knife at the throat of another guard, Byron Bean.

'CUT THAT OUT'

"I told them to cut that stuff out, that such didn't go on inside a prison," said the warden.

Hancock is serving a 55-year term in the slaying of a state trooper at Shelbyville, Tenn., and Arthur, convicted in Chattanooga of armed robbery and murder, has a 100-109-year term.

540 New Year's Deaths Forecast

CHICAGO (AP) — Between 460 and 540 persons will lose their lives on the nation's highways over the three-day New Year holiday observance, says the National Safety Council.

The death count will run from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

The council's estimate was issued yesterday as the final death toll figure for the three-day Christmas weekend became available.

Some 685 persons were killed from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Artificial Heart Valve Getting To Be Common Task For Surgery

Replacing a scarred heart valve with a plastic device is a common procedure. There are a number of different artificial valves and, more recently, surgeons have fashioned valve cups out of fibrous tissue obtained from the legs.

The mortality rate attending the technic is extremely low considering that most of the persons have a handicapped heart and are poor risks for any surgical procedure.

Two San Francisco surgeons have done cardiac valve replacement on 85 patients. Of the 85, 19 were 60 or older. Nine of the 10 survived showing that age is no barrier. All had serious heart trouble involving one or more valves.

THESE operations are done with the heart exposed and open. During surgery, the individual's needs are maintained with a heart-lung machine that bypasses the cardiac structure. Blood is poured through the coronary arteries to maintain viability of the heart muscle.

In the operating room, a dozen or more physicians and nurses work as a team. While some are doing the operation, others are monitoring pressure, oxygen supply, urinary output, acidity of the blood, and other vital body functions. At the completion of surgery, the heart is restarted and the victim is watched carefully until his heart and other organs are functioning normally.

IN ANOTHER series, the valve was replaced in 18 pregnant women. The risk of continuing to term with a heart that was failing was too great. The medicos would have preferred to replace the valves before pregnancy, but in these individuals, they had no choice. All women recovered and delivered their babies successfully.

Valve replacement is no longer a new procedure. Although the technic was late in coming, it has made up for lost time. The key is "teamwork" between many specialists in several related fields.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

CHEWING NECESSARY

J.D. writes: Must food be chewed well?

REPLY

Yes, but not to the point of being ridiculous. Meats and vegetables leave undigested residues hence they should be broken up into smaller pieces because they require more chewing than bread and cheese. It is surprising how many people bolt their food without developing digestive disorders. On the other hand, digestion begins in the mouth.

ATLANTA (SS) — When a doctor looks at a Raphael or Rubens painting in an art gallery he sees something besides beauty in the large necks of some of their models. Their thickness indicates goiter, which is caused by an enlarged thyroid gland.

Dr. John R. K. Preedy, professor of medicine at Emory University here, says goiter must have been fairly common in the early 16th century, judging from the thick-necked ladies in the paintings. Their particular type of large neck was a mark of beauty in their day.

The thyroid is an endocrine gland in the neck, that secretes a hormone called thyroxine, which affects some aspects for growth and development as well as the metabolic rate that regulates body processes.

The Rubens and Raphael ladies were not necessarily hyperthyroid, Dr. Preedy explains. A goiter may also occur when the thyroid output is normal.

Volcano Continues Phase Of Eruptions

HILO, Hawaii (UPI) — Halemaumau volcano on the island of Hawaii last night entered the 15th phase of a nearly two-month-long eruption after taking Christmas Day off.

Scientists said Halemaumau, the main vent of the Mount Kilauea, could continue its on-again-off-again eruption for months, even years.

Another Trial Was Used By Pioneers

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Besides the famed Oregon Trail, early Oregon pioneers traveled to the region via the Applegate Cut-off.

Plotted in 1946, the trail left the California Trail near Winnemucca and passed through the valleys of the Rogue, Umpqua and Willamette Rivers.

Pedestrian Mall Is Being Studied

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Buchanan Street between Post and Bush may be closed to create a pedestrian mall in the planned Nihon Machi Japanese Center, officials say.

The tentative plan was announced yesterday by Justin Herman, director of the Redevelopment Agency.

Nihon Machi is an area in the Western Division being developed by a corporation composed of Japanese - American property owners in the area bounded by Post, Bush, Webster and Laguna streets.

INSULTING PEOPLE

C.M. writes: Is it true that people who are insulting and make cutting remarks are unsure of themselves and have an inferiority complex?

REPLY

Yes, and many of these people face the possibility of being forced to eat crow at a later date when insults do not prove effective under similar circumstances. This trait is also found in cocky persons and those who have made or inherited money.

ALCOHOL ACTION

J.M. writes: How does alcohol intoxicate a person?

REPLY

Alcohol exerts druglike action on certain centers of the brain. The effects depend upon the concentration of the substance in the blood, and the manifestations vary from loquaciousness to coma.

CAT ODOR

T.D. writes: My wife and child are not bothered by the odor of our pet cat, but I am. What would you suggest?

REPLY

Your only hope is to issue an ultimatum: "The cat or me."

U.S. Troops Lose
Windfall From Devalued Pound

LONDON (AP) — U.S. troops in Britain have lost their London cost-of-living allowance and their housing allowances have been cut to bring these fringe pay items "back to what they were really worth before devaluation," the 3rd Air Force announced yesterday.
The diminished pound added an average of $8.40 a week to the pay checks of 26,000 U.S. servicemen and 1,800 civilian personnel throughout Britain.
Between 3,000 and 4,000 troops had received the London allowance which, like the housing grant, varied according to rank and number of dependents.
Many servicemen feel that rising living costs could offset their gains from the dollar's higher value due to devaluation.

A Tree Check
For Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago will be 100 flowering trees prettier, thanks to the generosity of Temple Shalom, which is observing the 100th anniversary of its founding.
Dr. Louis Binstock, rabbi of the Jewish religious congregation, presented Mayor Richard J. Daley a $5,000 check yesterday for buying the trees.
Dr. Binstock said the trees, one for each year of the congregation's age, will serve as a lasting "thank you" to the city.

Marijuana Use
At Base Probed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Air Force is investigating reports of marijuana use at Mather
Air Force Base.
Maj. Charles Rainey, Mather
Air Force Base information officer, said yesterday that about five enlisted men attached to the base hospital are suspects.
But he said there had been no arrests.
The base houses about 5,000 men and is the Air Force's nav-igator training center.

CRITICAL BLAST

Beatles' TV Tour Called 'Big Bore'

LONDON (AP) — The Beatles' latest creation—an hour-long television film fantasy—was greeted with howls of dismay and amazement by press and public today.

Hundreds of viewers telephoned complaints to the British Broadcasting Corp. which screened the $72,000 "Magical Mystery Tour" last night as one of the high spots in its Christmas schedule. It was the first movie produced by the group.

"If they were not the Beatles," wrote Mary Malone in the Daily Mirror, "they could not get a toothpaste merchant to go for this. It was chaotic."

"A great big bore," said Richard Last in the Sun, "a bore based on the proposition that improvisation and random selection are a valid substitute for organized art. And they're not."

The film—a coach tour with the cast taking off at random on wild flights of fantasy to a background of Beatles songs—is expected to bring in more than $2 million from foreign sales. It will be shown in color in the United States in 1968.

A spokesman for the Beatles commented: "There are some people who don't understand parts of it. Maybe they are looking for too much reality in sequences which are very intentionally unrealistic."

Said Beatle Paul McCartney:
"If people don't like it they only have us to blame."

Innocent Plea
In Tavern Fracas

Bryce Lawrence MacMillan
Jr. of 370 Holly Street, Novato, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to two felony charges that he struck police officers in a Sausalito tavern fracas Dec. 17.
Preliminary hearing on the charges was set for Jan. 9.
MacMillan is charged with kicking and striking Sausalito Patrolmen Steven Willis and Thomas Zink as they removed him from the Two Turtles Bar at 688 Bridgeway.

Willis collapsed and required treatment at Marin General Hospital after taking MacMillan to the police station.

Disturbing Charge

To Juvenile Court

Don Robert Hurd, 19, of 1614
Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was transferred to juvenile court from Marin Municipal court yesterday to face a charge of disturbing the peace Dec. 3 in the Marin General Hospital emergency room.
Hurd was arrested for alleged-

Romney Holds Reds Winning The 'Other' Vietnam War

SAIGON (AP) — Presidential hopeful George Romney said today that "military victories are being won" by the United States and its allies in South Vietnam but the Communists are winning the so-called other war.

"Our military victories are being won without corresponding victories in the political, economic and social fields," Romney told a news conference at the end of a three-day visit. Romney also criticized the proportion of the U.S. effort in South Vietnam, saying "there remains the problem of the United States tending to do too much of the job themselves."

The Michigan governor said again that he had been misled on his previous visit to South Vietnam more than two years ago but that he had gotten a more rounded view this time.

"I indicated very frankly that I was given a conducted tour last time and that this did mislead me," he said. He expressed anger over the criticism of his statement in a television interview last Sept. 4 that U.S. military and diplomatic officials had "brainwashed" him on his previous visit.

"That's past," he said. "I'm here to discuss the present and the future."

He added that he hoped the U.S. public is not going to hold the statement against him.

"I leave here with a basic grasp of the situation," Romney declared.

"By our yardsticks—the measurements of our military men—we're winning the military actions," he said. "There are actions outside the military field, and there the enemy is winning some substantial victories.

"We have no way of measuring the military victories from the standpoint of the enemy's objectives. I personally am not impressed with the body count methods of measuring success."

"It's such a big and complex situation and so few people understand it."

Romney said he felt that "generally" he was treated with candor by U.S. military and diplomatic officials and by representatives of the South Vietnamese government, including President Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Van Loc.

He was asked about a report from Robert L. Pisor, the correspondent in South Vietnam of the Detroit News, that U.S. Marines stationed just outside Da Nang had been briefed on what to say to Romney the night before the governor visited them. Pisor reported that an enlisted man told him after Romney's visit: "We were talked to ahead of time. We were told what to say."

Drake's Alumni Triumph

You can't even bet on your friends any more.

Drake High School's basketball team, which is on a three-game losing streak, fared no better against its own alumni yesterday, losing a 70-57 verdict at Drake.

The Pirates had three players score in double figures with Art Pla hitting for 13 points and Don Alvarado and Clark Jamison scoring 11 each.

Packers Shaking Off Injuries

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers should be in good shape physically when they meet the Dallas Cowboys in the National Football League championship game here Sunday, Coach Vince Lombardi says.

Three Packers received minor injuries last Saturday when Green Bay beat the Los Angeles Rams 28-7 for the Western Conference title.

Quarterback Bart Starr hurt his hip but was able to stay in the game. Defensive back Bob Jeter suffered a bruised knee, and center Ken Bowman was badly shaken up on a play.

"But they're all okay now," Lombardi said yesterday after his players worked out in zero weather at snow-covered Green Bay.

NO FREEZE

The Packers are practicing at Lambeau Field, where Sunday's game will be played. The turf kept at a 50-degree temperature and is prevented from freezing by a system of electric cables under the ground.

While the Packers didn't emerge from the Rams game in worse physical shape, their injury-riddled roster wasn't improved any either.

Fullback Jim Grabowski, who missed the Los Angeles game and will undergo knee surgery after the playoffs, is unlikely to start. Definitely absent will be tight end Allen Brown, who is hospitalized with a two-week-old kidney injury, and halfback Elijah Pitts, who is out for the season with a leg injury.

But Lombardi expressed confidence and pride in the makeshift backfield that carried the Packers to victory over Los Angeles.

Donny Anderson ran very well, said Lombardi, who also had praise for the speed and hard running of rookie sensation Travis Williams, who scored twice.

Napa Pro Golf Tourney Should Be Quite A Show

GREAT GOLF — Hey, who says too many cooks spoil the broth?

Just the opposite may be true when you consider the Kaiser International Golf Tournament committee preparing the $125,000 spectacle for Napa's Silverado Country Club next month.

There are more than 500 persons working on the tourney committee and one well-known golf authority already has described it as an artistic success.

Harvie Ward, vice president and director of public relations at Silverado, was an office visitor the other day to tell about the gigantic preparations for what promises to be the greatest thing to hit Napa since the grape.

Said Ward: "J. Edwin Carter, the tournament director with years of experience, told me the Kaiser is prepared as well as any tournament he's ever seen. We've been working on it since June.

Some Big Names In Lineup

"We've already got well over $100,000 in ticket sales in the till and they'll be selling like hotcakes from now on. Look at some of the drawing cards in the lineup: Arnold Palmer has already committed himself; so has Billy Casper; then there's Don January, George Archer, Dudley Wysong, Al Gieberger, Gene Littler, Dave Marr, Ken Venturi and all the great young newcomers like Ron Cerrudo, Bob Murphy, Bob Smith, Marty Fleckman and Deane Beaman."

Ward, former two-time national amateur champion, expects great galleries. "After all," he noted, "there's a population of six million people within a 100-mile radius of Napa — and that's quite a crowd to draw from. We are only an hour from Sacramento, 45 minutes from Oakland and 40 minutes from the heart of Marin County.

"Also, we'll have ample parking for 10,000 cars, even in wet weather, and an elephant train will shuttle the spectators between the parking area and the clubhouse."

Half Price For Season Ticket

He said tickets are available at all Roos-Atkins and Joseph Magnin's stores. A season ticket to the Jan. 15-21 event will cost you $16. Daily tickets sell for $4 each for Jan. 15-16-17 (for practice and the pro am rounds) and $5 per day for Jan. 18-19-20-21, totalling $32.

To get Silverado in tip-top condition, the course has been closed five days a week for the past couple of months. After New Year's Day it will be completely closed until tourney time.

"We've purchased 70,000 square feet of tarpaulin to protect some of the greens that might hold water in the event of rain," Ward said. "But, we're looking forward to good weather."

Quite A Fancy Scoreboard

A highlight of the Kaiser, said Ward, will be the IBM computer-generated sports message board and scoreboard located on a 40-foot mobile van near the 18th green.

Fed by statistics broadcast by walkie-talkie, the 30-foot long message board with 7,000 lightbulbs will relay important scoring information and messages about events as they occur.

Information will include hole-by-hole scores for each player and such background data as greens hit in regulation figures, numbers of putts taken on each hole, drives on fairways or rough, and length of drives on selected holes.

"It's a far cry from the day when the only way you knew what was occurring on the course was through rumor," laughed Ward.

—Yesir, Napa is going big time. With a committee of 500, it should be golfdom's answer to the Ed Sullivan Show.

East-West All-Stars Polish Up

PALO ALTO (AP) — Two-a-day workouts continued today for both the East and West squads honing for the annual Shrine charity game Saturday at Candlestick Park.

The East, now rated to be outscored by 3½ points, put in a full scrimmage yesterday afternoon, the first in a long time.

CSONKA

Working out at nearby Santa Clara, the East showed off the offensive power of 235-pound Syracuse fullback Larry Csonka and the running of Benny Barnato of South Carolina. Dick Himes of Ohio State and Wayne Mass of Clemson also drew the approval of head East coach Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame.

Pro scouts and coaches watched the workout at Santa Clara, as well as the West's practice at Stanford University.

The consensus of the pro visitors was that the West's starting backfield will go in the first round of the draft Jan. 30. They are Gary Beban of UCLA, Haven Moses of San Diego State, Warren McVay of Houston and Lee White of Weber State.

DEFENSE

West defensive backfield coach Ray Wilsey of California said his team was working as if it had been together a long time. It includes Harry Cheatwood of Oklahoma State and Neal Starkey of the Air Force Academy.

Standouts in the defensive workout were Jim Smith of Oregon and Bob Smith of California. No relation, they each intercepted a pass—one from Beban and one from Danny Holman of San Jose State.

Head West coach Ben Martin of the Air Force Academy said his entire offensive repertoire of plays is installed and the emphasis from now on will be on polishing.

Ex-Yank Pitcher Is Named Mets' General Manager

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Murphy, once an outstanding relief pitcher for the New York Yankees, was named general manager and vice president of the New York Mets today.

He succeeds Bing Devine, who resigned Dec. 5 to become general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Murphy, 59, gained his fame as the relief pitcher who always followed Lefty Gomez to the mound. After completing his playing career, Murphy was farm director for the Boston Red Sox.

He joined the Mets in 1961 and was an assistant to George Weiss, club president, who organized the National League expansion club that year.

Murphy had served as general manager in the interim after Devine left.

Australians Again Capture That Coveted Davis Cup

Doubles Triumph Over Spain Clinches Prize

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Australia still reigns supreme in world amateur tennis.

The Aussies retained the Davis Cup today when John Newcombe and Tony Roche defeated Manuel Santana and Manuel Orantes 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 in a doubles match, giving them a 3-0 lead over Spain in the Challenge Round and making tomorrow's two singles matches meaningless.

Newcombe beat Orantes and Roy Emerson defeated Santana in opening singles matches yesterday.

Spanish Captain Jaime Bartoli said his team lost a bit because Luis Arilla was unable to play.

Arilla, who usually teams with Santana, was forced to withdraw from the doubles because of a strained thigh. He was replaced by the 18-year-old Orantes.

"I think we would have done better with Arilla," Bartoli said. Usually Santana can return the ball better than he did although he served better than what he did Tuesday. Orantes did not have the courage to smash which is necessary in doubles, but let the ball bounce."

PLAN

Asked if it had been the plan for the Australians to hit the ball at Orantes as much as they did, winning captain Harry Hopman said:

"That would be the natural thing to do. If I were playing with Newcombe, all the balls would come to me."

Only once did the Spaniard get near to breaking their opponents' service as a crowd of 4,200, 300 below capacity, watched Roche and Newcombe clinch the Cup for Australia for the 11th time in the last 13 years and for the 24th time since the competition began.

10 FOR U.S.

The United States has won the cup 10 times, Great Britain nine and France six. The U.S. team was eliminated this year by Ecuador in a startling upset.

The story of Australia's latest Cup triumph once again was experience.

Roche and Newcombe, who have played many important matches together, were just too much for the battling Spaniards as they utilized big services and hard volleys to repeatedly force mistakes.

Raiders' Old Pros Show How

NEW YORK (AP) — Two re-treads who helped Oakland win its first American Football League Western Division title this season, led statistical races as well.

Figures released by the AFL today showed veteran place kicker George Blanda winning the scoring crown with 116 points and quarterback Daryle Lamonica finishing first among the league's passers.

20 OF 30

Blanda, cast off by Houston before the season, hooked on with the Raiders and kicked 20 of 30 field goal attempts and 56 of 57 conversion attempts.

Lamonica, who was a bench-warmer for four years at Buffalo before being traded to Oakland, hurled 30 touchdown passes and completed 220 of 425 passes for 3,228 yards.

Boston's Jim Nance won his second straight rushing title, gaining 1,216 yards and New York's George Sauer led the league's pass catchers with 75 receptions.

McKay Says Indiana Team Is Like UCLA

PASADENA (AP) — Coach John McKay of the Southern California Trojans says Indiana's football forces are "more like UCLA than any other team we've played."

The Trojans and the Hoosiers of the Big Ten battle in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day and the comparison with UCLA brings to mind that USC beat the Bruins by only a single point, 21-20, to win the right to represent the Pacific-8.

"Defensively they're not too big but quick and they don't allow big gains," McKay told the Southern California Football Writers yesterday. He added that offensively the personnel in the Indiana backfield also resembles that of the Uclans.

All America linebacker Adrian Young and defensive end Tim Roosovich were quick to agree with their coach.

Young said quarterbacks Harry Gonso, the Indiana sophomore, and UCLA's Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban were both scramblers who "keep you on your toes."

A poll of those attending the session showed 67 favoring USC and 31 for Indiana with two predicting a tie. Those voting for the Trojans predicted a 15-point spread on the average while those for Indiana averaged only a four-point difference.

Coach John Pont of Indiana was asked about the tendencies of his club to gamble during the games and replied:

"I think we are disciplined on both offense and defense but our style seems to be a willingness to take chances with the football at any time."

Asked about the tremendous improvement of his 1967 squad which posted a 9-1 record after the 1966 team was just 1-8-1, Pont said that "we had a couple of young men who could run fast" in Gonzo and halfback John Isenbarger, also a sophomore.

"Then after the first game we had proved we could win coming from behind at any given moment," the visiting coach added.

Indiana trailed Kentucky 10-0 at halftime in the opener and went on to win 12-10.

Southern California, also with a 9-1 record and voted the national collegiate champion, rates as a two touchdown favorite and Pont was asked if this bothered the Hoosiers.

"We were underdogs in seven of 10 ball games," he answered. "We've had more practice being underdogs than anything else. It doesn't bother us at all"

Cardinals Confident Maris Will Be Ready In Spring

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Roger Maris says he'll have to wait and see if the ailment affecting the right side of his face will clear up, but the St. Louis Cardinals are confident Maris will be well by spring training.

The Cardinals said they had no plans to have Maris come to St. Louis for an examination of the Bell's palsy which has affected vision in Maris' right eye. Maris said yesterday that he has been suffering from the disorder for some time.

He said the ailment prevents him from blinking his eye and has caused some pain. He said he has developed a film over the eye.

Cardinal team physician Dr. I. C. Middleman said Bell's palsy is "something that can clear up in four to six weeks. It's almost 100 per cent curable."

The 33-year-old right fielder had informed the Cardinals some time ago that he would

Only Thing The Rams
Caught Was A Cold

The only thing the Rams caught here last Saturday was cold.

LISTEN, WOULD you fight a lion in a closet? An eagle on a mountain peak? Like to light a match and check the fuel level in your gas tank? Stick your hand in a bag of snakes? Feel around for a growling dog in the dark?

Well, all those things together make more sense than playing the Green Bay Packers in Milwaukee. In December. The Rams didn't need a football, they needed a St. Bernard.

I don't know why they scheduled the game here — I guess because the top of Mt. Everest was booked.

THE RAMS were frozen so solid by the second half that if they turned up on your front lawn you would put a sotevipe hat and coal buttons on them. Their fingers were as brittle as icicles, so that you were afraid to have one of them catch or bat down a pass for fear they would break off.

Fortunately, the Rams never put them to the test. For the Packers, it was the kind of a day where you go out and lie around the pool. They put the air-conditioning on in Green Bay when the temperature hovers in the high 20s.

IT WENT clear up to 14 at game time Saturday, and the vendors did a brisk business in hand fans.

I don't know what the Rams' game plan was, but I'm not the only one. The once-proud team looked as if it hit an iceberg. You could do a flamenco to the sound of their teeth. They were the first football team in history to turn blue.

NAPOLEON, Gen. Ludendorff, Von Paulus and Adolf Hitler could tell them what a mistake it was to wage war in the enemy's territory in winter. I think you can chalk up another win for Field Marshal V. T. Lombardi, but Gen. Winter was definitely on his side. The Packers got two touchdowns on passes and two others on frostbite. Even the whirlpool bath was frozen solid. By the fourth period, the Rams looked like 11 packages from Birdseye. The Packers had the game, so to speak, on ice.

I DON'T mean to mislead you. I don't think the Rams would have won had they played the game in the Mojave in August.

For Lombardi, it was another case of Vince vici and vici. Nor do I mean to suggest that the Rams cannot play the game anywhere you can't smell orange blossoms. This is a team whose historic image is that it cannot win under any conditions where you can't wear smoked glasses and thonged sandals. But, even discounting this, 14 degrees is a little ridiculous.

LOOK AT IT this way: If you stage the heavyweight championship prizefight under water, Lloyd Bridges is going to be the champion of the world. The only contest that should be decided in 14-degree weather is the slalom. The game of football was once described by the late Ted Husing as "autumnal madness." But this game was polar lunacy. Some 49,000 people bucking for double pneumonia watched it.

As a contest, it was about as exciting as daytime television. It's all right to watch while you're ironing, but I wouldn't risk a respiratory ailment for it. The green-and-gold Packers won with the cold impersonal efficiency of a guy performing an autopsy. The locker-room banality "It was just as cold on both sides of the field" was about as ludicrous as a guy who lost a shark fight saying, "Well, it was just as wet for the shark."

GUYS WHO come from a climate where summer is a season where your sled occasionally hits a rock can block and tackle — and pass — better in 14-degree weather than guys to whom winter is a time when you only have to mow the lawn twice a week, or when you can't go swimming at night.

In the steamy, dripping dressing room, Roman Gabriel, whose antecedents came from the frozen wastes of the Philippine Islands, accepted condolences from naked blond giant, Merlin Olsen, whose antecedents came from a country where even the sun is afraid to show its six months a year, and murmured, "Roman, we will just accept one-fourth of the blame, no more and no less."

ALL WELL and good. But the Green Bay Packers should have been penalized for having 12 men on the field. Jack Frost wasn't on the starting lineup handed to the officials, but he was suited up, and played a helluva game. In fact, they could have given him the game ball. He'll be in the lineup next week, too. If the Dallas Cowboys win Sunday, they should just mail the game to Green Bay. If they play it, they should get paid off in penicillin.

Mariner Cagers Open Tournament Action

College of Marin Tars were to take on Pierce Junior College this afternoon in the first round of the Santa Monica Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The Tars, winners of three straight and five of their last six, bring an even 5-5 record into the tournament, one of the toughest jaycee go-arounds in the state.

They're in the same bracket as perennially powerful Long Beach, which faces Chaffey Junior College in another opening round game.

CHAMPS Long Beach recently won the Foothill Invitational Journey. In other games, Santa Monica meets DeAnza and Harbor Junior College takes on Palomar J.C.

The Tars go into the tourney at full strength with guard Russ Williams back in the fold and starting, and Andre Horn, the team's top scorer, recovered from a tilt with the flu.

Those two will guide the fast break and pressing defense, while Tom Herrnberger and steadily improving center Keith Kornelis will provide rebounding strength along with veteran Tom Stetson, the team's second-best scorer.

Kornelis, with 30 points in his last two games, moved up to the No. 3 scoring position.

BENCH STRENGTH

For bench strength, Tar coach

Cal Riemcke can throw in veteran Russ Smith, spunky guard Dan O'Brien, forwards Greg McCarthy, Ray Wolford and Chip Tyson. All can score and perk up the team.

"I'm pleased with our progress," Riemcke said.

"I think we're along as far as we should be. Our defense isn't as quick as last year, especially on the press, but our board strength is better. And rebounding superiority gives you a good defense."

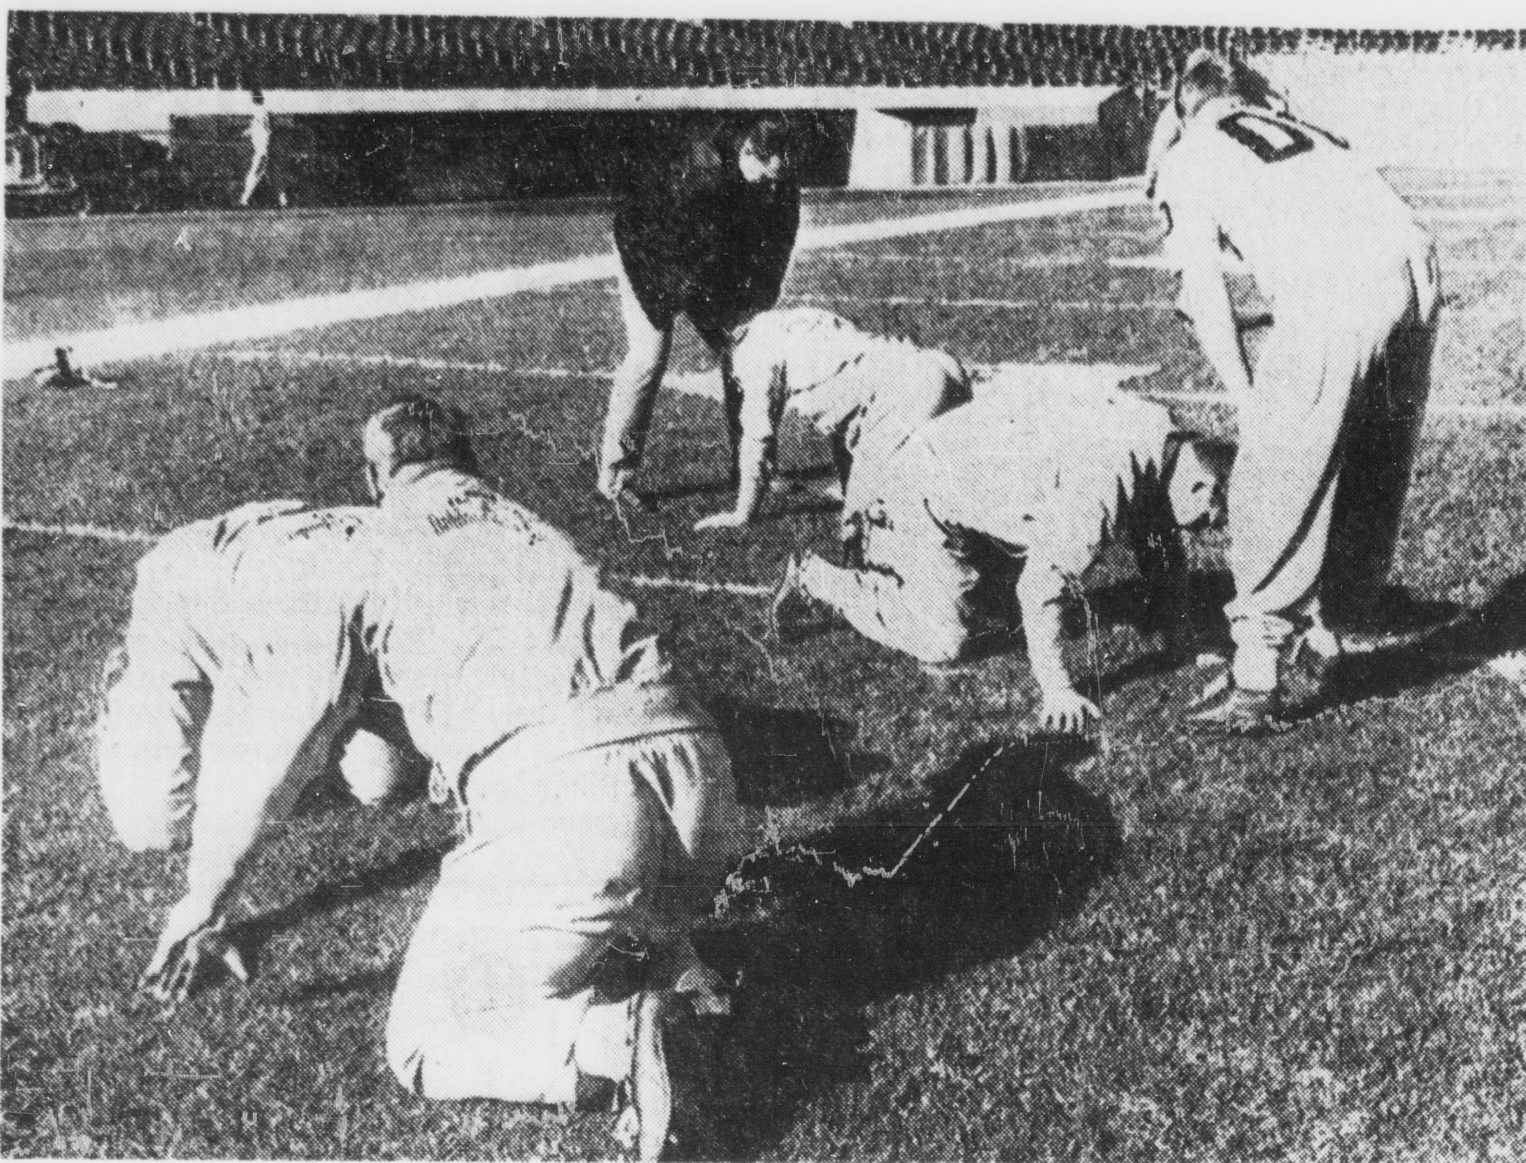

BALANCED

The Tars have no explosive scorers like Bill Pandiani and Bob Phillips, who frequently scored in the thirties last year.

But the squad is balanced and deep, with at least four players scoring in double figures almost every game. Horn is tops with a 14.7 average followed by Stetson at 13.6.

Detroit's Dave Bing Over The 1,000-Point Plateau

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave Bing is over the 1,000-point plateau and the San Francisco Warriors are over the hump in the National Basketball Association.

Bing, Detroit's sensational sophomore, became the first NBA player to pass the 1,000-point mark this season when he poured in 39 and led the Pistons to a 127-110 victory over St. Louis last night.

The Warriors, meanwhile, ended a four-year losing streak to Boston, beating the Celtics 117-104. It was San Francisco's first victory after 13 straight losses stretching back to January 29, 1964, at Boston.

In other NBA action last night, Seattle withstood a fourth quarter New York rally and shaded the Knicks 137-135. Los Angeles, playing without Jerry West and Elgin Baylor, topped Chicago 104-101, and Philadelphia dropped Cincinnati 126-121.

New Orleans thrashed Anaheim 120-93. Indiana topped the Eastern Division after finishing last in the Western Division last season, attracted 10,804—their largest home crowd in four years.

Walt Hazzard dropped in six free throws in the final seconds preserving Seattle's victory over New York. The Knicks tied an NBA record by scoring 53 points in the fourth quarter, almost erasing a 23-point Super-Sonic lead in the final 10 minutes.

But Hazzard, who had 37 points and 17 assists, kept New York at bay with his flawless foul shooting in the last minute.

The Lakers had to play without Baylor, who had the flu, and West, out with a back injury, but got 24 points from Archie Clark to take up the scoring slack.

Los Angeles blew an 11-point lead in the fourth period, but baskets by Dennis Hamilton and Gail Goodrich in the final one-half minute pulled it out for L.A.

Chet Walker scored eight of Philadelphia's last 10 points as the 76ers held off Cincinnati. The victory moved the 76ers one-half game ahead of Boston in the Eastern Division although Philadelphia trails the Celtics by eight percentage points.

Walker finished with 28 points and Hal Greer had 26 for the 76ers. Oscar Robertson had 32—27 in the second half—for the Royals.

LSU Team Loses No. 1 Fullback

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — With the Sugar Bowl just five days off, Louisiana State's football team today found itself minus No. 1 fullback Eddie Ray. The Southeastern Conference's top punter.

Coach Charlie McClendon quickly shifted personnel around to fill the gap while Wyoming coach Lloyd Eaton, whose unbeaten and untied Cowboys battle LSU in the 34th Sugar Bowl Classic here New Year's Day, told sports writers:

"I know Eddie Ray's loss is a great blow to LSU, but they've got such tremendous depth and so many fine backs that I don't know if it will really make a big difference."

McClendon informed his squad yesterday that Ray, a 6-foot-2, 220-pound soph from Vicksburg, Miss., had been suspended from school.

The suspension was ordered by the University Disciplinary Committee, which never discloses its reasons.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Good Chance To Get Steelhead; Here Are Tips On Fly Casting

Chances for catching a steelhead in the immediate future are good — provided you have the necessary savvy to cast an artificial fly into the center of the expanding ring made by a fish rising to the surface and submerging.

Many (I might say, most) of the coastal streams have lowered and cleared as this is being written and the steelhead might pass up rowberries, or hardware offered them, but will rise to a properly placed fly.

A FEW TIPS on fly casting for steelhead seem to be in order, so here they are: first and most important is to take your stance behind a large rock or well away from the edge of the water when making your cast; don't allow your shadow to fall on the water; don't wear glasses or anything that will alert the steelie to danger.

Wear neutral clothing if you can, and twitch your rod as you would in tempting a trout. If, during the night, some rain has fallen in showers (not a downpour) get to the stream you will be fishing just before the sun rises, fish until, maybe 10 or 11 o'clock and loaf until an hour or so before sundown before whipping the stream again.

SHOULD YOU spot an area where a fish rolls and leaves the expanding rings as a target don't make only a few casts, but keep casting for a long time — maybe an hour. You might hook the fish of the first or second cast, or you may not get a hookup until the 20th cast. Steelhead have a habit of staying many hours in the same area.

ONE LAST thought: Many steelhead will have completed their spawning ritual and be on the way back to the ocean. You may catch one or more of these spawned fish (called "snakes" by some anglers), but pay no attention to the suggestion made by them that you should toss a "downstream" back. Some oldtime steelhead fishermen will tell you that the flesh of these spawned fish is not worth the trouble of cooking.

Pay no attention to such remarks. A steelhead having performed his duty and headed back to the deep sea is every bit as tasty as a fresh run fish. The longest battle I ever had with a steelhead (two hours and ten minutes) came from a spent female hooked across the Navarro River from the Highway Hole.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Answering Questions
For Vets, Newcomers

Some people have boats for years and still don't know what makes the whole sport tick. At least it seems this way from many of the letters I get.

On the other hand, I know that many of the three-quarters of a million or so new boaters who took to the waterways this year are thirsting for more knowledge.

Here are some of the questions on basic boating asked by both groups last summer:

Q. Don't aluminum boats get uncomfortably hot in the sun?

A. They certainly do... if they are sitting up on the beach out of the water. But when floating, an aluminum boat is almost exactly the same temperature as the water it's sitting in because of the high heat conductivity of aluminum. It's the second best conductor of heat. (Silver is first.)

Q. My outboard seems to give off a lot more smoke than it used to. What could be wrong?

A. There are only two conditions which cause more smoke in the exhaust of an outboard motor... a too-rich fuel-to-air mixture in the carburetor, in which case the smoke would be black, due to unburned carbon... or too much oil in the gasoline. Then the smoke would be blue. Motors which use the newer 50-1 and 100-1 oil-to-gasoline mixtures produce very little smoke.

Q. The steering wheel on my outboard boat is on the right. My neighbor's is on the left. Why?

A. Propeller torque is the reason... generally. Torque is the turning force applied to the propeller shaft by the engine. Mostly it turns the prop clockwise when you are facing forward. To every there is an equal and opposite reaction (Newton's third law), so the force which turns the prop clockwise tends to tilt the boat counterclockwise. This throws the starboard or right hand side high. To counteract this, the driver, and the steering wheel, are on the right hand side to help keep it down. Maybe your neighbor's engine turns his propeller in the opposite direction.

Q. My friend tells me he has an "express" cruiser. It looks like any other boat to me. What's an express cruiser?

A. It's a kind of loose term but it generally refers to a boat that planes, which means it is fairly fast, and has a cabin or some protection from the weather for the passengers. The latter is the important thing.

Q. If someone falls off my boat and drowns, where does the legal blame lie?

A. If your boat is unsafe, and a person drowns due to your negligence, you might be charged with dangerous operation of a boat. You could also be sued. A passenger in your boat is YOUR responsibility.

Q. What is a "displacement" boat?

A. This is a boat that moves through the water by "displacing" water. This is in contrast to a "planing" hull which skims over the surface of the water as most modern high speed pleasure boats do.

Q. What's the rode on a boat?

A. This is the anchor line. It's the rope attached to the anchor. It has to be a rope of either fibre or wire. If it's chain it's not a "rode."

Q. Do I have to carry a life-saver for our baby, age 2 months?

A. The law doesn't say anything about the age of a "person" aboard the boat. If your baby's a "person," you'd better have a life preserver aboard for him or her.

Q. A friend always covers the windshield of his boat when he's trailering it. Is this necessary?

A. If he travels gritty roads, he's wise. Grit or abrasive is the worst enemy of a plastic windshield. Be careful when you clean one. Wash it with detergent and your bare hands. Polish with very soft cloth.

Q. If my boat is sinking, do I have to stay and be the last to leave?

A. No law requires this. It's an old British tradition of the sea. Americanized during colonial times. No skipper HAS to look out for the welfare of his passengers to this degree. Rats get off a sinking ship as soon as they can.

Q. I'm told I have to carry life preservers, according to law. What law?

A. It's a federal law called the Motorboat Act of 1940. It requires "one approved life preserver, buoyant vest, ring buoy, or buoyant cushion for each person on board."

Q. If I speed past a canoe with my 100 h.p. boat and the canoe tips over, have I violated any law?

A. The canoeists, or the police or the Coast Guard might charge you with reckless operation of a boat. Of course they would have to prove recklessness or negligence. But that doesn't seem too hard to do now, does it?

A Hearty 'Well-Done' For Fish-Game Chief

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — When the Department of Fish and Game twin engine Beechcraft is set up for fish planting, it takes off early in the morning, while the air in the high country still is relatively smooth.

The plane darts in between granite cliffs to drop its cargo of thousands of fingerling trout into the tiny target area, seldom missing.

When the smaller plane is used to count antelope, it has to fly at altitudes of 25 feet in order to tell the sex of the animals.

FINDS TIME

But not so with Thomas H. Richards Jr., of Sacramento, president of the Fish and Game Commission who is hanging up his spikes after more than 11 years in the non-salaried job. Richards said he manages to find time to go with the department pilots on fish-planting or herd counts every year.

Richards is being replaced by Sherman Chickering, a 56-year-old San Francisco attorney who, if his interests mean anything, should be well qualified for the job. Chickering reports he hunts deer in the coast range and in Nevada, is a quail hunting addict, and fishes the American River near his family cabin at Soda Springs.

But Richards' decision to have a bit more time left for his own hunting, fishing, canning business, and quarter horse racing, leaves the commission about the shortest on experience it's been for years. William P. Elser, of San Diego, has been a member for 12 years and Henry Clineschmidt of Redding has been on the body since 1959.

LATE APPOINTEES

James Y. Camp, of Los Angeles, was appointed in mid-1966 and the fifth commissioner, C. Ransom Pearman, succeeded Dante Nomellini to a spot early this year. With Chickering's appointment, the commission, for the first time in many years, is without a representative from either the Sacramento or San Joaquin valleys.

Richards' services on the commission are going to be missed. They will be missed next fall when it comes time for California to go up against the dog-in-the-manger attitude of the eastern flyways to try to come up with a decent waterfowl limit and season. Richards and Nomellini both had been well experienced in this important jousting session.

MAJOR TASK

Perhaps Richards' experience may be missed the most in the first major task to come before the commission in 1968. That will be the setting of hunting seasons, limits and regulations. The first meeting will be in April, with the final action coming at the end of May.

This likely could be one of the most hectic years on deer season setting since 1957, when the outdoor world was in a turmoil because of the 1956 either sex hunt. The problem in 1968 will be the fact the deer kill in 1967 nosedived by some 40 per cent.

There are going to be a lot of people appearing before the commission who will have all the answers. They will be wanting a 100-day season with nothing less than a four-point buck legal.

COOL HEADS

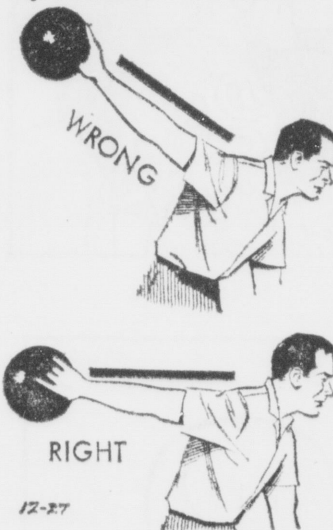

It will be a time when cool heads are needed. The complaints and the proposals of the self-proclaimed deer management experts cannot be ignored. Neither can the commission be panicked into taking action that would be futile as far as helping the deer herd but could upset the hunting fraternity.

The new commissioner, Chickering, is quite a hiker and said he has been keeping an eye on deer in the Sierra for 40 years. There's a good chance his counsel will be helpful come regulation-setting time.

Meanwhile, it's time for a hearty "well done" for Tom Richards, with our best wishes for his continued success in his other pursuits.

BOWLING TIPS

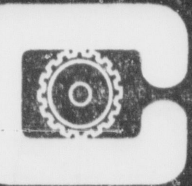

By MARION LADEWIG

Sometimes bowlers will swing the ball back too far in an attempt to gain more power. This is a mistake. Usually a too-high backswing will cause the bowler's accuracy to suffer, for such a "big" movement is difficult to control. Swing back to not more than shoulder height.

San Geronimo Course Has New Head Pro

Mike Rawitzer, 26, well known Marin County golf professional, will become head pro at San Geronimo National course effective Jan. 1, it was announced yesterday.

He will succeed Tom McHugh who is leaving San Geronimo to become head pro at the 27-hole Walnut Valley Country Club in Walnut, Los Angeles County.

McHugh has headed the San Geronimo pro staff since the course was constructed in 1965. Rawitzer has been his assistant for the past year.

San Geronimo and Walnut Valley are two of the newest facilities in the National Golf Courses, Inc. chain headed by William Saunders of Honolulu. Other courses in the chain are one in Sonoma, two in Portland and two more in Southern California.

Rawitzer said Jim Kardas would remain at San Geronimo as his number one assistant.

The new San Geronimo head man, a native of Michigan and graduate of College of Marin, has had nearly eight years' experience as a teaching pro. He served three and one-half years at San Rafael's Peacock Gap, two years in Los Angeles and a year at Marin Country Club before joining San Geronimo.

McHugh's new home base recently was purchased by the National chain and soon will be renamed Pomona National.

Housewife Wins Bowling Honors

Lu Sharp, Mill Valley housewife and one of Marin County's best bowlers, was star roller of the week at Nave Lanes, bowling the season's high series for women at the Ignacio lanes, 614.

Guns Galore At Sports, Boat Show

Unique guns and revolvers, some dating back to the landing of the pilgrims in 1620, will be on display in the new Guns Americana exhibit at the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, Jan. 12 through 21 at the Cow Palace.

Among the hundreds of guns exhibited will be the Smith and Wesson revolving rifle, a revolver with a 20-inch barrel and detachable shoulder stock for adaptations as a rifle. There were 976 of these firearms made in 1880, when the line was discontinued.

The Ethan Allen shotgun, patented in 1865 and one of the earliest double barrel shotguns using self-contained cartridges and loading from the breach will be displayed.

MINI REVOLVER

Reid's "My Friend" knuckleduster, a mini-revolver with no barrel and so small it can be held in the closed hand, also will be featured, as will the Jaeger flint lock rifle, an early 1700 gun which represents the highest perfection for a rifle of its time.

Another firearm specialty, the J. H. Hall breech loader, was the first breech loader adopted by the United States Army in 1819 and features interchangeable parts and the option of removing the firing mechanism for use as a pistol.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 27, the 361st day of 1967 with four to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1932, the largest indoor theater at the time was opened in New York City. It was the Radio City Music Hall.

In 1941, the Japanese bombed the neutral city of Manila.

In 1945, the United States, Soviet Union and Britain announced they would govern Korea as joint trustees for five years, then grant independence.

In 1963, the Commerce Department authorized the sale of surplus wheat to the Soviet Union.

A thought for the day—Greek biographer Plutarch once said, "The whole life of man is but a point of time; let us enjoy it, therefore, while it lasts, and not spend it to no purpose."

Kitchen Timer Helps Halt Children's Fray

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI)—Oregon State University family life specialist Mrs. Roberta Frasier suggests an easy way to keep youngsters from fighting over the same toy.

Use a kitchen timer. She says the impersonal ding of the timer will tell them to shift the privilege to the next child.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Another Appropriate Bridge Proverb: 'Fool And His Discard'

"A trick saved is a trick earned," a certain kind of partner hastens to tell you. "Early to bid and early to pass shows if a player really has class," he intones. Today's hand brought forth another appropriate bridge proverb.

HEART FINESSE

South drew two rounds of trumps and tried to heart finesse. West refused the first heart but took the second and led back a third heart. South thereupon led the ace of hearts, discarding the deuce of diamonds from dummy.

When declarer next led the ten of diamonds, West was alert enough to step up with the ace of diamonds and return a diamond, crashing the queen and king together.

Dummy sadly announced: "A fool and his discard are soon parted." Quite right, of course. South had to give up two club tricks and was therefore down one.

PREMATURE DISCARD

South made his mistake when he discarded prematurely on the ace of hearts. He should lead the ten of diamonds before leading the fourth round of hearts.

If West steps up with the ace of diamonds, South will later take the king of diamonds and get to dummy with a trump to discard a club on the queen of diamonds.

DISCARD DEUCE

To avoid this West must play the jack of diamonds on South's ten. Dummy wins with the queen of diamonds, and South gets to his hand with a trump to cash the ace of hearts. Now is the time to get rid of dummy's deuce of diamonds.

South leads the king of diamonds to put West into the lead, and West has no safe return. If West returns a diamond, dummy ruffs while South

Wallace Now Likely June Primary Spot

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—Entry of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace into California's June 4 presidential primary seemed assured today after state officials predicted his American Independent Party would qualify.

H. P. Sullivan, assistant secretary of state, told United Press International last night Wallace's party apparently would obtain the necessary 66,068 registrants by Jan. 2 deadline.

"I can't see how they can miss it. I think they've got it made," Sullivan said.

A survey of registrants in 12 of California's most populous counties showed 51,206 registrations for the third party. The state's remaining 46 counties were yet to report.

"However, it will be at least Jan. 22 or 23 before we will know the definite totals," Sullivan said.

County registrars have until Jan. 21 to certify the registrations and forward them to the

One Dies In Explosion At Mine Factory

HANOVER, Mass. (AP)—Fire and explosion today ripped a frame building at the Atlantic Research Corp., manufacturers of antipersonnel mines for use in Vietnam, killing one person and injuring at least 25 others.

The small, wooden structure was used for mixing explosives, police said, and a small fire touched off the explosion.

Cause of the fire was not immediately known.

Twenty-seven persons were reported in the building.

South Shore Hospital in South Weymouth received 12 victims and at least 10 were held for treatment. One man was reported in critical condition.

Two persons were taken to Brockton Hospital from the plant, located some 25 miles south of Boston.

The explosion tore off the roof of the building, one of several in the sprawling industrial complex.

Reporters were denied admission to the area.

Five Burglaries Are Solved With Arrest Of Youths

San Rafael police said today they have solved five out of eight recent house burglaries in the Treehaven Drive and Twin Oaks Avenue area.

Four youths, 16 and 17, were arrested.

Two of the boys admitted to several burglaries and have been cited to the probation office, said Sgt. Louis E. Foster of the juvenile division.

The other two youths were booked into Juvenile Hall for trespassing when they were picked up while allegedly preparing to break into a house, said Foster.

All the burglaries occurred within the past three weeks, he said, and netted the boys small amounts of cash. In one case they took a letter opener later recovered by police.

Home Loan Cost Hike Is Argued

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson administration is expected to recommend raising the ceiling on interest charged for FHA home mortgage loans, but one of Congress' most consistent low-interest spokesmen is urging it to reconsider.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee has written Housing Secretary Robert C. Weaver urging him to consider other possible ways of attracting more money into the housing market.

FHA loans are now at the statutory ceiling of 6 per cent, plus 1/2 per cent insurance premium. In most cases, however, a loan is more expensive because of the practice of discounting, or charging "points," for lending money at the fixed rate.

Constantine Said Ready For Return

ATHENS (AP)—Reliable sources said today King Constantine may return to Greece before New Year's Day and will be greeted by Premier George Papadopoulos, the man he attempted to oust from power.

Papadopoulos, accompanied by Deputy Premier Stylianos Patakis, flew off for northern Greece for a tour of the provinces.

The grand marshal of the royal court, Leonidas Papagos, who fled to Rome with the King after the abortive Dec. 13 coup returned from Rome yesterday, reportedly to prepare for the king's return. He said he came back to attend to some personal problems.

Reliable sources said the royal family probably would land at a military air base near Athens to avoid curious crowds.

Some sources speculated that the royal plane would land at Tatoi airbase, near the Greek royal family's permanent suburban residence.

A man wanted in Long Beach for investigation of car theft was arrested by San Anselmo police last night.

Theodore Walcott Jr., 38, of 112 Oak Crest Road, San Anselmo, was booked into county jail on suspicion of car stealing and for investigation of passing worthless checks in Marin County. Bail was set at $500 for the checks offense, and a hold was placed on him for the alleged car theft.

Scientist Fears Baby Food Risk Form Over-Fertilizing Of Crops

NEW YORK (AP)—A biologist said today he is worried whether too much nitrogen used in farm fertilizers is getting into store-bought baby foods.

If it is, then certain nitrogen products might be killing some babies, or making others turn blue, he said.

The biologist, Dr. Barry Commoner of Washington University in St. Louis, said he did not know whether this is really happening yet. But he said it should be looked into.

Many things that man does or invents have unexpected or damaging consequences, he explained. Badly polluted water or air from various sources are one obvious example.

Commoner raised the question whether nitrogen, used now in prodigious amounts to grow more food, could also be harming health.

He said it is well known that nitrogen products from farms—and from city sewage plants as well—can over-fertilize lakes. This can change nature's normal balance in ways that had not been predicted, such as a pea-soup type of growth of tiny plants or suffocation of game fish from lack of oxygen.

Maybe, Commoner said, there is a health danger from the increased nitrogen content now in crops and plants.

Nitrate from nitrogen is usually harmless in the body, he explained. But under certain conditions, bacteria in the intestines can change nitrate to nitrite.

If nitrate reaches the bloodstream, it can decrease the ability of hemoglobin to carry oxygen. This could lead to infant oxygen, particularly in infants, causing a pale blue appearance, or even death, he said.

Commoner said a study, published recently by scientists from the University of Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station, had found that some commercial baby food—beets and spinach particularly—"contained as much as 8 per cent nitrate nitrogen. At this rate, an infant fed a two-ounce jar of baby food would receive about 40 milligrams of nitrogen as nitrate."

"Public health officials recommend that infants take, in their food and water, no more than 12 milligrams of nitrogen daily," he said.

Death Claims St. Louis Woman For Second Time

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Funeral services will be held today for Glenda Gampher, the 23-year-old college student who startled medical authorities by a brief "return from the dead."

Miss Gampher died in Jewish Hospital yesterday, three days after she had been prematurely pronounced dead. Her grieving family planned services this afternoon at a St. Louis County funeral home followed by burial in Topeka, Kan., where the Gamphers formerly lived.

At the same time, laboratory workers were trying to find out what it was that caused Miss Gampher's death under circumstances that made her appear dead days before she actually died.

Miss Gampher was found unconscious Friday under a tree near a lake in Forest Park. The girl was taken in a police cruiser to City Hospital, where she reportedly was pronounced dead by an intern while still in the car.

City Coroner Helen Taylor and a police officer noticed the girl was breathing as she lay on a marble slab at the morgue. She was returned to City Hospital. The girl regained consciousness and talked with her parents, but her condition remained critical until death.

Mrs. Taylor said a painstaking examination is necessary to determine whether

Trains Vanish While Rapid Transit Talked

With all the talk about possibility of rail-born rapid transit for Marin — perhaps running through a tube under the Golden Gate — no one has suggested that an existing railroad should take over the operation.

None of the three roads that touch the Bay— Southern Pacific, Western Pacific and Santa Fe — has given any indication of interest. Nor is this surprising. American railroad operators are pretty thoroughly convinced that there is no money in passenger traffic, particularly for commuter runs.

Passengers certainly have deserted the railroads. A new brochure by Alco Products, Inc., which aims to present the railway companies in the best possible light, recites that last year, passengers provided just 5 per cent of the net revenue of the 76 Class 1 railroads in the United States, and that these roads lost an average of $5 million on passenger service.

THE RAILROAD PEOPLE claim, with some justification, that the government has saddled them with unrealistic regulations while underwriting their competitors. The Alco booklet comments: "Government spending at all levels for transportation facilities by highway, air and water exceeded $17 billion in 1966. The federal government alone spent $5.8 billion on other modes of transportation, and $4.5 billion of this on highways."

The railroads, meanwhile, are called upon to pay taxes and operate as a profit-making business — and roundly cursed when they curtail service.

HOWEVER, THERE ARE those — including the California Public Utilities Commission — who believe many railroads just do not want to operate passenger service and are doing everything they can to discourage it, rather than trying to lure riders back onto the trains.

This contention is at the nub of an unusual petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission, hearings on which are now in recess until mid-January.

The hearing involves service on the Southern Pacific's Sunset, a one-crack passenger train between New Orleans and Los Angeles. The five states it crosses — California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Louisiana — have petitioned the ICC to force Southern Pacific to improve the service on the line. Particularly, they want return of Pullman and dining car service which the railroad has dropped.

WHETHER THE ICC can force the road to do this is going to be argued through the federal courts, whatever the ICC itself decides. But David R. Larrouy, attorney for the California PUC, says that the issue involves planned abandonment of passenger trains.

It works like this, he contends: The railroad, finding a passenger run is losing money or not making any, wants to abandon it. But it still has too many riders, and the ICC might not permit abandonment. So the railroad downgrades the service. This drives away more riders, until the passenger total is so low there is no difficulty in getting federal approval to drop the train.

Sixty-seven passenger trains have been abandoned this year alone. Many of these, the five states in the SP case contend, were planned abandonments.

IF THE STATES win their case and the courts uphold ICC authority in such matters, railroads may begin upgrading instead of downgrading passenger service, to try to make such runs profitable rather than working to get rid of them.

In the meantime, however, one wonders why the governments of the states and the United States should not spend some of the money that is going into subsidies for railroad competitors to encourage the railroads to provide service where it is most needed — such as for commuters.

The row of camellias on the main floor balcony of the San Rafael City Hall, in bloom despite the cold, provided a cherry note appreciated by passersby on recent frosty mornings.

Postage Rates Going Up Again; Does This Mean Slower Delivery?

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Come Jan. 7, another raise in postal rates will be in effect. Postal employees will receive more money. All of which probably fits into the picture of national inflation.

But the question is, will the public receive better service for the privilege of paying more money to send and receive its mail?

And the answer is, if history is any criterion, the service will sink further into the depths of inefficiency, as it has in the past when rates were raised. Improvements inaugurated, and postal salaries increased.

WHEN FIRST CLASS postage went to five cents an ounce it was felt that better service would result. Unhappily, now it takes even longer for the delivery than it did in the days when the rate was two cents.

When the post office in Sacramento moved to new and larger quarters, at some public expense, it was hoped mail delivery would be continued on at least the same basis. But what happened? The morning mail was delivered much later than under the old schedule.

When the postoffice decided to sort and distribute mail at the state capitol from the basement of the building instead of from the new post office, it was held that the mail would arrive on time. However, recipients get their mail an hour later.

THE POST OFFICE department in Washington, D.C., issues monthly a "Memo to Mailers" which outlines the so-called progressive steps it is taking to improve the mail service.

One of these steps is the standardization of mail sizes. It says "a full dialogue has been launched" on this subject.

If this idea ever is adopted, it contemplates an additional two cents postage for mail that does not meet the finally adopted standards, applying to first class and air mail.

The department wouldn't bar first class and airmail envelopes from the mail if they didn't meet standard sizes; it would merely charge the public more money for them.

Standardization, of course, would mean less work for the postal clerk and delivery men, but whether it would speed up delivery of the mail remains a question. Neither would it assure delivery of the right mail to the right place, and the errors in this respect, judging from the wrong delivered mail to this news service, are growing rather than decreasing as the post office "improves the service."

"I may be a bigot, Gov. Wallace, but I'm no racist!"

Home Care Handles 130 Cases A Month

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to clarify certain inaccuracies regarding the otherwise factual account of Marin Home Care's activity presented to the Marin General Hospital Board meeting (I-J, 12 19 67).

Firstly, Marin Home Care handles about 130 cases (not 30) monthly. The figure 30 represents new referrals to the program from Marin General each month.

Even though these patients free badly needed hospital beds, the hospital is still jam-packed, and the intent of our report to the board was to indicate we could still accommodate more patients and assist in early discharge by close liaison with the hospital.

Protected Range Sought For Eagles

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The overwhelming public interest, I believe, is in protecting the eagles of Point Reyes and West Marin and not in destroying the national bird, our proud symbol of American independence.

The wildlands of the National Seashore and the water district fortunately provide protected nesting areas for these birds but they must range over other parts of Marin in search of food. The bald eagle is mainly a fish eating bird, the golden eagle a rodent eater. It is difficult in the field even for experts to tell the immature golden from the strictly protected bald eagle, so both birds should be considered as one in any protection scheme.

Where their range has been overgrazed by the intensely competitive sheep which destroy cover for small animals, the eagle may be attracted by baby lambs which are born at this time of the year. Because of the very few remaining eagles the number of sheep involved must be small and, of course, they may have been killed by other causes — even neglect. The enemy of the sheep in West Marin is not the eagle or other wildlife but speculative land values and high taxes which are driving out livestock and farmers. West Marin is destined to become a regional recreation area and its scenic values and wildlife, including eagles, are becoming its major attractions. Certainly, Mr. (Leroy) Martinelli should be compensated for sheep lost to eagles and if the government does not provide funds, I am sure they can be raised locally.

In order to bring some light on this problem I suggest that the board of supervisors apply to the appropriate state or federal agency for a two-year study of the nesting and feeding habits of the eagles of West Marin. When the extent of their range is known, it might be declared the Point Reyes National Eagle Range and supervised from the National Seashore. Then with habitat management beneficial to both landowner and wildlife the eagle would remain a proud asset and hopefully its trend toward extinction would be reversed.

Finally, we should thank Mr. Martinelli for calling the plight of the eagle in Marin to our attention. He obviously is a keen eagle spotter and should be considered as an observer for the proposed Point Reyes Eagle Range. He wouldn't be the first farmer whose supposed wildlife enemies became his valued friends.

Scenic Photographs Get Congratulations

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The striking picture of the bay from Sausalito's shore in tonight's (Dec. 20) Independent-Journal brings me to the point of writing what I have long wanted to say: Congratulations to your photographers! And to you, too, for your policy of giving us such beautiful scenic snapshots day after day. The shots taken for your Dec. 12 issue were artistic masterpieces.

Everyone I speak to around here shares the appreciation I feel and would like to say "thank you!"

China Number One

(Reprinted from Vancouver (B.C.) Sun)

Russian-American relations are today regarded as the coolest in years. Yet a recent speech by Soviet party boss Leonid Brezhnev suggests that the U. S. has slipped to third in the Kremlin's list of potential enemies.

Topping all else came "naked Chinese imperialism" and after that what the Russians and some of their eastern allies are pleased to call "German revanchism." That's Peking Chinese and Bonn Germans, of course.

Does this mean Moscow is ready to cosy-up with Washington again? Not until the Vietnam affair is out of the way, probably, for otherwise Peking would have added reason to denounce Moscow imperialism. This is perhaps as good an argument as any for the U. S. finding a way out of Vietnam, with or without Russian help.

TRY AND STOP ME

A COUPLE of late diners rushed up to the ticket taker at a summer playhouse on Cape Cod and demanded, "Is the curtain up yet?" "It can't be," the ticket taker assured them, "because I'm also the star."

A sociologist, embarked on a book exposing the troubles resulting from over-large families, interviewed one mother of 14 children. In the course thereof, he asked, "Do you think all children rate the full, impartial love and attention of a mother, or do you, for instance, catch yourself loving one of them more than the others?" "There's always one I love best," admitted the mother. "Which one?" asked the sociologist. The mother answered, "The one who's sick — until he gets well, or the one who's away — until he gets home."

Vietnam Critics Have Problem: They Can't Offer Alternative

WASHINGTON — Critics of U.S. policy in Vietnam have a credibility problem. It's growing.

This is because they are finding it increasingly hard to put together a case which stands up in the court of public opinion and are being forced to resort to arguments which either ignore logic or distort history.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota is today the political spokesman of the end-the-war movement.

Since he doesn't advocate withdrawal, it certainly is pertinent and fair to ask the senator, "What is your alternative? How would you end the war?"

But when Mr. McCarthy shows he has no workable alternative, no plan to offer, his fellow critics contend he shouldn't be asked such silly questions.

THE VERY IDEA that McCarthy should have to offer any practical course himself is branded as "nonsensical" as suggesting that "one should only oppose starvation, the common cold, racial prejudice, or tropical storms if he knows what to do about them."

Every campus protester, every draft-card burner, every McNamara-Rusk picketer should not be expected to provide a position paper on national policy.

But Sen. Eugene McCarthy is seeking to be President of the United States and it is not too much to ask one who wants to be President what course of action he would put in place of the one he aims to terminate.

To suggest that such a question is "nonsensical" shows the absurd lengths to which the critics of the war are having to go to defend their case.

A CENTRAL REASON for defending South Vietnam is that the United States is resisting aggression at its start in Southeast Asia in order to avert worse war under worse conditions and with worse casualties.

In the eyes of many this is what makes the defense of Vietnam vital to the peace and safety of the U.S. itself.

The critics must find some way to deflect this argument because it reaches to the very heart of their contention that it doesn't matter if a war of aggression succeeds in southeast Asia.

This is exactly what they are now trying to do, and they are trying to do it by cutting off history at the end of World War II and saying that nothing after that tells us anything.

THEIR THESIS is that there is no use in resisting aggression at its start because, as one critic puts it, to defeat one aggression provides only "the provocation for the next war."

It is true that there can be no guarantee that any war is a "war to end all wars." It is true that the peace settlements which followed World War I and II carried with them the seeds of future conflict. But the world is far better off with the peace which the Allies made than the peace which Hitler would have made.

The Korean and Vietnam Wars fall into an entirely different category than World War I and II. The Korean war was fought for a limited purpose — to prevent the military conquest of South Korea by North Korea. The Vietnam war is being fought for the same limited end — to prevent the takeover by force of South Vietnam by North Vietnam.

There is no purpose to impose on North Vietnam punitive peace terms, territorially or otherwise. In both cases, planting the seeds of future war through exaction of a punitive peace is what our policy is avoiding.

Resisting the aggression against South Vietnam will make future aggression anywhere in Southeast Asia less likely and less inviting.

Russians Flying Mig-21s Over Egypt, Syria, Yemen

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — An ominous Red star is rising over the Middle East.

Russian pilots are now flying Mig-21s and medium-range jet bombers in the skies over Egypt and Syria, as well as Yemen.

Since last June's Arab-Israeli war it is estimated 300 Soviet fliers have been integrated into these two Arab air forces.

ACCORDING TO U.S. intelligence sources, the presence of the Russians in Egyptian and Syrian air units has been known in the highest government circles here for two months.

However, no public statement on this direct Soviet military involvement had been made because of a "fig leaf" policy adopted by the White House.

Under this policy all government officials are barred from revealing the information until President Johnson decides how the administration will react to the new Soviet threat.

The presence of Soviet combat fliers in Yemen was confirmed by the State Department only after new dispatches from the Middle East revealed that the body of a Russian pilot had been found in the wreckage of a plane shot down while attacking Royalist tribesmen.

Details of this direct Soviet involvement in Yemen were sent to the White House by the Central Intelligence Agency late in September. The same CIA reports told of the arrival of Russian fliers in Egypt and Syria.

SEVERAL SOVIET air squadrons destined for bases in Egypt are expected to begin arriving early in January. Their ground support equipment is already being unloaded at Egyptian ports.

Israel's diplomats here are privately warning that if Russia's arms build-up is permitted to continue much longer, conditions will soon be ripe for a new Middle East war.

Politics In Peninsula Spotlight As Old Year Blends Into New

This is the time of year for reflection on past events. But, as I try to look back at 1967 in the Tiburon area, I find myself looking ahead, instead, to such things as the Belvedere and Tiburon City Council elections coming in April.

In Belvedere, there will be three seats open, now belonging to Edwin J. Drechsel, Thomas S. Price and Merritt K. Ruddock. In Tiburon, there will be two positions at stake. Gordon W. Strawbridge recently resigned from the council, and Rampton W. Harvey is replacing him until April. Mayor John S. Hoffmire's term also expires.

THERE ARE QUITE A few unfinished projects in Tiburon, such as the sign ordinance, downtown plan, central waterfront, and a trail system.

In Belvedere, there may be ceremony to celebrate the remodeled community hall, after furniture is moved in. Landscaping is yet to be completed, too.

Dispute goes on between the two cities in relation to downtown storm drainage.

I doubt if anyone could convince a Belvedere councilman that it is not Tiburon's water that comes down to drench Cove Road and flood the lagoon each winter, and that Belvedere's plan to have an outfall to Raccoon Strait is not much better than any plan using Belvedere Cove as an outlet for storm drainage.

Contrariwise, Tiburon, having invested in a study by the engineering firm of McCreary-Koretsky, has been trying to incorporate one of the plans recommended by the firm for drainage correction, preferably an all-encompassing one.

Tiburon maintains a Raccoon Strait outlet would be more expensive and would be against the flow of gravity.

One of the main problems is that drainage correction costs money and an over-all plan would cost several hundred thousand dollars.

One interim drainage plan has been approved by Tiburon. Will 1968 bring a cooperative drainage program to benefit both Belvedere and Tiburon? Only as the pages unfurl from the new calendar will we find out.

THE TWO CITIES are getting together on one subject, at least, on Jan. 7, when a Twelfth Night tree burning event, formerly sponsored by and held in Belvedere, will be located in Tiburon.

Parks and recreation commissions of both cities are setting up the event, which will start at 6:30 p.m. It provides an opportunity for residents to safely discard dry Christmas trees, which can be taken to the lot, off Tiburon Boulevard between the Safeway store and the Tiburon Lodge, any time before Twelfth Night.

A sing-along of Christmas carols, aided by cups of hot coffee, is planned to accompany the burning.

Firemen from both cities will be on hand.

CHRONIC WEATHER complainers were quiet over the Christmas holiday here. Sailors took advantage of the sunny weather, giving the bay a picture post-card look more than usual.

The balmy climate gave many of us an opportunity to engage in other outdoor sports. Bicycling on Paradise Drive, I passed several other bicyclists, motorcyclists and hikers.

Bicycle riders were also evident in both cities on brand-new shiny bikes received as Christmas presents.

THERE IS SOMETHING calm and peaceful about the Belvedere Lagoon on a clear winter night, with lights glowing softly over the water. I had dinner with friends who have three active youngsters, but the feeling of peace pervaded indoors even after the sliding doors were closed against the coolness.

At dusk, there was a stir as an anticipating crowd of wild ducks squawked and fluttered to gobble up handfuls of grain thrown by some residents, then all was calm again.

As usual, the seagulls crowded into the first row at the sight of food offered, but the ducks and geese managed to get into the act.

From the dining table, we could see the lights come on around the lagoon. One resident had arranged lights on wires to successfully give the illusion at night of a lighted Christmas tree on the sun deck.

Garrison Claims LBJ 'Protecting' Killers

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—President Johnson "knows very well that Lee Oswald did not pull the trigger," Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison said yesterday, and charged Johnson and J. Edgar Hoover have kept the truth about the assassination of President Kennedy from the Kennedy family.

'PROTECTION' CHARGE Garrison, asserting that at least 15 persons including right wing extremists were involved in a conspiracy to murder Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963, said Johnson and the federal government are "protecting the assassins every day."

In a day of fast moving developments in his year-old assassination probe, Garrison said:

Oswald was working as a federal agent in November, 1963 and advised the Federal Bureau of Investigation of a plot to kill President Kennedy in Dallas.

At least 15 persons were involved in the conspiracy, including right wing extremists.

REDS NOT INVOLVED Communists were not involved in the plot.

He fears the Warren Commission's secret documents may be changed before they are released to the public.

Garrison, blasting away at Johnson for not releasing the Warren Commission secret documents, said the federal government "is protecting the assassins every day."

"It must certainly be the first time in the history of the human race that the man who profited most from a murder was able, as a consequence, to be in a position to announce that the vital evidence could not be seen until after all living persons were dead."

"It is my feeling that President Johnson was not involved in the assassination, but wouldn't it be nice to know that he was not involved," Garrison said. "We'll never know that he was not involved until he stops concealing the evidence."

Asked why the Kennedy family has not backed his investigation, Garrison said the family was not aware of a federal "coverup" because it was getting its information from Johnson and Hoover, the FBI chief.

FBI INFORMED? The district attorney said the FBI had knowledge of the Nov. 22 conspiracy. He said an FBI telegram warning agents about an assassination attempt went to several FBI bureaus and went as high as Hoover. However, Garrison would not say how he could confirm such a telegram.

A New Orleans television station (WVUE), said Garrison based his information on a report that Oswald sent a telegram to the FBI from Dallas several days before the murder.

The station quoted Garrison as saying he could crack the case if a western union agent would reveal a copy of the Oswald telegram. But Garrison was also quoted as saying the agent feared for his life and would not release the wire.

OTHER FACETS In other developments in Garrison's investigation:

The Los Angeles district attorney's office issued a fugitive complaint against Bradley.

Bradley's boss, conservative radio evangelist Rev. Carl McIntire, said in Collingswood, N.J., that his organization has been able to pinpoint Bradley's activities and show Bradley was nowhere near Dallas Nov. 22.
